Haver Calls Tompkins Appeal Bid Inaccurate

Checks On Pittsburgh Law Case

Says Ashby Date Established First

Attorney N. LeVan Haver, trial counsel in the Edwin W. Ashby perjury case, today issued a statement concerning the application made Monday by Special Assistant Attorney General Bernard Tompkins special prosecutor in the Ulster County kickback probe to postpone argument of the appeal.

Ashby was found guilty of the charge after a jury trial. An appeal was taken from the conviction.

The Appellate Division on Monday declined to postpone argument of the appeal which is set down for Friday at Albany. Haver's statement follows:

Charges Inaccuracies

"I had expected that when Senator Tompkins returned from Pittsburgh he would offer to the press and the public some explanation of the wholly inaccurate statements contained in his affadavit of Nov. 13. This was the sworn statement he submitted to the judges of the Appellate Division in his unsuccessful application to postpone the argument of the Ashby appeal until next year. In that affadavit he swore, under oath;

"1. That he had an engagement to take depositions in Pittsburgh, the date of which had been fixed 'for a period of several weeks' before he knew when the Ashby appeal would be argued.

"2. That it had been impossible to postpone or change that date; and

"3. That the depositions would take at least three or four days to complete and, therefore, it would be physically impossible for him to argue the Ashby appeal this week.

Refers to Dates

"Investigation from my office disclosed:

"1. That the date for taking the depositions was fixed, at the request of an associate of Mr. Tompkins, on Oct. 21 and notice of the examination was not served until Oct. 27 (The Appellate Division, on Oct. 1, set the Ashby appeal for argument at its November term

CONFERENCE ABOUT CRANBERRIES—Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Arthur S. Flemming, center, talks with George C. P. Olsson, left, of Boston, president of Ocean Spray Cranberries, Inc., and Rep. Hastings Keith (R.-Mass) in Washington. Talk was before a conference between industry leaders and Health Department officials on a plan to clear a large volume of cranberries of suspicion of contamination by weed killer before Thanksgiving. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Accepts Plan For Some Berries

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today approved a plan for making plentiful supplies of uncontaminated cranberries available for Thanksgiving.

Secretary Arthur S. Flemming of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare said lots of cranberries already tested and found to be uncontaminated may be marketed if they contain this statement:

"Examined and passed by the Food and Drug Administration of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare."

Cranberries from lots totaling more than four million pounds already have been tested and found to be free of contamination from the weed killer aminotriazole.

Flemming said the plan, worked out with representatives of the cranberry industry would:

1. Assure proper testing of fresh cranberries and processed cranberry products in all stages of marketing—wholesale and retail—before they are offered to the consuming public.

2. Provide for approved labels which the housewife can look for to be sure the package, can or bottle she buys is from tested cranberries.

The plan was developed at a series of private conferences after industry leaders had put forth their own suggestions at a public hearing Wednesday. Government officials are understood to have countered with some suggestions of their own as both sides sought to agree on a course of action.

Cloud of Supicion

A cloudy of suspicion has hung over cranberry products since Flemming told a news conference 10 days ago that traces of a weed killer had been found on some of the berries grown in the Pacific Northwest. He said the weed killer, aminotriazole, had produced cancer when fed to rats.

Disability Method Saves Over Million

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — New procedures of the State Workmen's Compensation Board are saving 1½ million dollars a year, the board chairman said today.

Solomon E. Senior told a special meeting of Associated Industries of New York State that the savings soon would rise to two million dollars.

Survey Rocky's Record

His comments were in a letter to be read by Leo Murin, board counsel, at a meeting called to review Gov. Rockefeller's record of keeping pledges made to improve the state's business climate.

Senior said that, through reduction of the waiting period in lump-sum cases before his board, industry was saving one million dollars a year.

In lump-sum cases, workers receive a flat disability settlement instead of payments over a period of time.

Operators Net $5 Million Profit in Two Bingo Years

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Of the 21 million dollars collected in the first two years of legalized bingo games, game operators made a profit of 5 million. A few lost money, however.

Under terms of state law, the profits must be used for charitable purposes.

Voters legalized bingo on a local-option basis in November 1957, stipulating that only non-profit organizations, such as church and veterans' groups, could conduct the games.

Since then, the State Lottery

Probe All Manhattan In Meat Scale Fixes

NEW YORK (AP) — Investigating officials saw signs today that New York's rigged butcher scales racket may have extended throughout the entire city.

"If there is any city-wide conspiracy," said Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan, "we will be ready and willing to act. I don't think the mayor or anyone else knows the full extent of this."

Hogan's comments followed a report by Investigations Commissioner Louis I. Kaplan that anonymous complaints to him indicated the short weight fraud existed in Manhattan, too.

Brooklyn originally was the only borough involved.

Kaplan said he would turn over the information he was receiving to Hogan for any action required by the Manhattan prosecutor.

At the same time, a full-scale inquiry was opened into the finances and income of all 84 inspectors in the New York City Bureau of Weights and Measures.

This investigation was launched after Fred J. Loughran, 47-year-old chief of the weights and measures bureau, had been arrested on extortion charges. Loughran's arrest came only hours after he had been fired by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Loughran, a lawyer who was appointed to his $8,250 post in 1946 by former Mayor William O'Dwyer, has been accused of a $1,000 shakedown of a Brooklyn butcher. He has denied any wrongdoing.

Also arrested was one of Loughran's inspectors, Bert Smith, 39. Both Smith and Loughran were released for a hearing Friday.

A third arrest Wednesday involved Emanuel Lapidus, 49-year-old president of a Salesmen and Poultry Workers union local. Lapidus pleaded guilty to two extortion counts and was released in bail until sentencing. He faces a maximum 15 years in prison on each count.

There has been no official estimate of the amount of money involved in the racket but some sources say it may run into millions of dollars. A Brooklyn grand jury is investigating the racket.

Housewives, many of them in poorer districts, were the victims. They paid full weight prices for short weight purchases, and better grade prices for lower grade meats.

Standard Plates Due for Wagons; Fee Won't Change

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Station wagons will carry standard passenger-car license plates next year but owners still will have to pay the additional fee.

And the Jan. 15 deadline for registering station wagons still applies.

William S. Hults, motor vehicle commissioner, said Wednesday station wagons must carry the 1960 plates on Jan. 16. Passenger cars are not required to have new plates until Feb. 2.

Presently, station wagons carry "suburban" plates, which are more expensive than the standard passenger-car plates.

Station wagon owners long have complained that they no longer should have to pay extra, since most station wagons now are for passenger use.

A spokesman for the Motor Vehicle Bureau said legislation would be required before registration fees for station wagons and passenger cars could be the same.

Several classes of motor vehicles must be registered next year for the first time. These are self-propelled vehicles that are used at any time on public highways.

They include road rollers, cranes, power shovels, snow plows, road sweepers, well drillers and small-wheeled trucks of the type used primarily to move stock in factories and warehouses.

These vehicles must be registered by Jan. 15 and will carry regular commercial plates. The registration fee will be two dollars.

The sale of 1960 plates begins at the bureau's issuing offices Dec. 1. They may not be displayed on any vehicle before Jan. 1.

Buzzanco Zone Rule Is Upheld

Must Cease Using Land for Storage

A zoning board decision to enjoin Andy Buzzanco, of 217 Abeel Street, from storing an assortment of implements and used materials on his property and trespassing on city-owned property at Block Park, has been upheld by a Supreme Court decision, Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly revealed today.

A city motion for a temporary injunction was argued last Sept. 4 before Justice William Deckelman in special term at Kingston, and a memorandum on the decision was received recently by the corporation counsel.

Fails to Comply

A zoning board hearing of complaints against Buzzanco resulted in the move to restrain Buzzanco from the reported practices, and it is charged that, to date, he has failed to comply.

Complainants charged that various implements and materials have for some time been left in open view on the property and that a truck or trucks owned by Buzzanco have been left parked in Block Park across from his Abeel Street property.

Given 90 Days to Clean Up

Attorney H. Edgar Timmerman, of Timmerman & Carlson, appeared for Buzzanco and Corporation Counsel Kelly for the city and zoning board at the September hearing of the motion.

Attorney George A. Beck, as zoning board chairman, noted in July that a move for a court decision would be made.

An inspection of the property by the zoning board in January was followed by an order in which Buzzanco was given 90 days "to clean up" the property, and the move for a temporary injunction was made after he had failed to comply.

Discipline Policy In Schools Is Up To Board Members

Discipline policies should be made by school board members, according to speakers Wednesday night at the State University College of Education, New Paltz.

Addressing nearly 200 board members and administrators from some 45 school systems in the mid-Hudson area, three speakers gave their views on the topic, "What Should the School Board Members Know and Do About School Discipline?"

This was the second in a series of four School Board Institutes sponsored by the Mid-Hudson School Study Council in cooperation with the New York State School Boards Association and

ADENAUER VISITS LONDON—Stepping under an umbrella, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is escorted from No. 10 Downing Street in London by British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. Send R-32 Traffic Crosstown Is Plan

Proposed rerouting of Route 32 traffic crosstown was referred to Mayor Edwin F. Radel and City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan at last night's Board of Public Works meeting.

Alderman James K. Ryan, (D) 10th Ward, as chairman of the Common Council's traffic control committee proposed routing traffic from the Boulevard over Greenkill Avenue across the Broadway overpass and to a new street that would be built parallel to the West Shore Railroad tracks into Cornell Street.

This would bring traffic headed north and west across the city from the Boulevard end of Route 32 away from crosstown travel over St. James Street and the area of the arterial route traffic pattern.

Think About Trucks

It was noted that the city could specify the route particularly for truck travel since it leads into industrial areas along Greenkill Avenue, Cornell Street, other streets beyond and finally to the Flatbush Avenue side of Route 32, or to other points in the city.

The proposal will continue "in the study stage" Mayor Radel said today, and a report will be made after all details are considered. Route 32, he said, is known as a "State Touring Route" and state phases of control must also be dealt with.

To Estimate on Rink

Andrew J. Murphy, 3rd, superintendent of the recreation department, upon the reading of a written request from Alderman Ryan, was directed to prepare an estimate of cost for providing skating facilities in Barmann Park.

A rink in the area, Ryan said, would be beneficial to youngsters and others in parts of the 10th, 11th and 13th wards.

Approval was given the city engineer to advertise for bids to install pumps in the station for the Fifth Ward sewer project; for curbing, paving and sewer work in Sherwood Drive, and for surface drainage on Kingston Street at Fourth Avenue.

Street light improvement was approved for Staples and Gross

Will Discuss Ryan Trial Date Monday

Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg, presiding justice at the extraordinary term of Supreme Court, will meet with counsel on Monday at 10:30 a. m. to discuss a date for taking up the Morgan D. Ryan bribery trial.

When informed that an order would be sought by Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins to draw a panel of jurors for the trial, Justice Greenberg notified Ward B. Tongue, Ulster County Commissioner of Jurors, that he would delay the drawing of trial jurors until after the Monday conference at which time it would be determined when the jurors would be needed.

Desires Early Start

Following the Tuesday decision of the Appellate Division holding valid the Ryan bribery indictment returned last August, Special Assistant Attorney General Tompkins announced he would seek to have the trial at the earliest possible date.

Tompkins indicated that he would be ready to proceed with

Much Like Old Offer USW Says

Proposal Is Fair, Industry Declares

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The basic steel industry today disclosed it had submitted a new contract proposal to the United Steelworkers Union. The union promptly announced rejection of the offer.

The union in a formal statement said the industry proposal was made on Nov. 15 and was turned down the same day.

The new proposal, the union said, represents virtually no change from the proposition the company made last Oct. 17. That offer was rejected by the 171-member Wage Policy Committee.

Worth About 24 Cents

The union estimated the latest offer as being worth about 24 cents an hour over the three-year period. It estimated the previous offer at 23.8 cents an hour.

In disclosing the latest offer, R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, estimated it would cost the companies 30 cents an hour over a three year period.

The industry valued the Oct. 17 offer at 29.4 cents an hour over the three year period.

On the basis of the industry's two estimates, the new proposal is an improvement of six-tenths of a cent over three years.

Cooper said in a prepared statement:

"The proposal is a fair offer to do what can be done and still keep within non-inflationary bounds in the cost of steel production."

Union's Statement

The union statement said:

"The only difference between this latest company offer and the earlier offers is a small pension improvement which the union actuary estimates is worth less than one-third of one cent."

Referring to the industry's proposals on local work conditions, the USW said the latest offer is the "same old attempt to deprive steelworkers of hard-won gains and protections." The statement continued:

"They still are insisting upon a one-sided and unfair arbitration designed to permit them unilaterally to eliminate jobs and benefits won by the steelworkers in their contracts for many years.

"The only changes are a 'stay' of the sentence until June, 1960, and some additional language which makes it even more clear than ever before that their objective is to eliminate jobs and workers.

'Infamous Program'—USW

"On other contract matters — seniority, schedules, vacation periods, discharge of employes involved, no matter how, in wildcat strikes—the new proposal is exactly the same as the old one.

"Thus they are still seek-

Freeman Ad Writer Wins National Award

Robert Saehloff, an advertising salesman for The Freeman, has won a national award for a recent series of ads prepared for the Kingston Savings Bank in late June and early July on the occasion of its 85th anniversary.

The award, a quarter-inch Black and Decker drill, was awarded to Saehloff for "a significant contribution to more effective use of newspaper space." Making the award was Multi-Ad Services, Inc., Peoria, Ill.

The series by Saehloff was entered in the contest by Warren Simmons, advertising director of The Freeman.

A letter from Clifford A. Henze, executive vice-president and treasurer of the Kingston Savings Bank, which accompanied the tear sheets of the ads which were submitted in the competition, pointed out that the celebration of the bank's 85th anniversary "is about completed but we cannot let it pass without acknowledging the fine assistance received from your good newspaper, through your Mr. Robert Saehloff." The letter was addressed to The Freeman.

"The six column two-color ad initiating the series for the celebration was effectively done and evoked considerable favorable comment. The subsequent ads were equally effective and added much to help us attain our promotional goal.

"Mr. Saehloff was most helpful with the preparation of the ads, and his patience with us and his ability to understand what we were striving for are to be commended.

"Again, we say, 'Thanks for your help.'"

Saehloff, who resides at 28 Dietz Court, has been with The Freeman for 18 years.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE — Quick thinking on the part of Thomas Timmons, 40, of Colonial City Mobile Homes, Albany Avenue Extension, may have saved his life late Wednesday afternoon when his 1959 tractor, traveling south, was cut off by an unidentified black convertible on Route 28 near the Sunset Drive-In Theatre. Timmons had the presence of mind to cut off the ignition and lights as the truck plowed into guard rails, knocking down 10 of them and continuing almost 200 feet before overturning and coming to rest on its top. Both the driver and the interior of the cab were drenched with gasoline. Timmons lay in the cab for approximately 10 minutes, it was reported, before a passing motorist observed his plight and stopped to render assistance. Deputy Sheriff Ernest Longyear of the Ulster County sheriff's office examines the wrecked tractor with a light. Timmons was taken to Kingston Hospital by Fatum Ambulance where he was treated for injuries to his right shoulder, right hip and jaw and released. Time of the mishap was 5:45 p. m. (Anner photo)

Home Extension Service News

Turkey prices are usually lowest in November. The peak month in turkey marketings is November. Although a larger proportion of turkeys are marketed prior to November than formerly, many producers still aim their birds for the holiday market. Prices tend to be lowest in November. In early November turkeys, under 16 pounds, were 4 cents per pound less than at the same time last year. Usually turkey prices advance during the spring, reach a peak in midsummer, and decline in the fall. While prices may slip a little prior to Thanksgiving, don't look for any big dip for the rest of this year.

Sweet potatoes, squash, and pumpkin will all be in good supply. Sweet potatoes are a traditional Thanksgiving dish in many parts of the country either as a vegetable dish or as sweet potato pie. While this year's crop is by no means a record, supplies will be three per cent greater than in 1958. During November New York receives most of its supply of sweet potatoes from nearby New Jersey.

For those who choose to serve squash or pumpkin pie, marketings are expected to be ample. Both Hubbard and Butternut squash, excellent for pies, are reported in good supply.

Nuts top off the holiday meal. Almonds and filbers will be the plentiful nuts this holiday season. The almond crop is estimated at 70,000 tons, more than three times the size of last year's short crop and a new record. Shell size of this year's' crop is small, but the meats are plump and the yield of meat to shell is expected to be higher than usual. The filbert crop at 9,420 tons is up 25 per cent from 1958.

Buy turkey to fit family size. In shopping for the Thanksgiving holiday turkey you will find that most turkey is sold ready-to-cook in frozen form. Ready-to-cook turkey is drawn or eviscerated, free from pinfeathers, and cleaned. The cleaned neck and giblets are usually wrapped in a separate bag and placed in the cavity of the whole bird.

Turkey is available in a wide range of sizes—varying from 4 to 30 pounds, although few retail stores carry those over 24 pounds. If you wish to shop for the size of bird that will fit your family size, allow ¾ to 1 pound, ready-to-cook weight, for each generous serving of roast turkey from a bird weighing less than 12 pounds. For birds of 12 pounds or more allow about ½ to ¾ pound for each serving. Of course, you may want to plan for second helpings and leftovers. The larger birds are usually less expensive per pound than small birds.

Thanksgiving, the American holiday to give thanks for beautiful harvests, can be exceptionally well celebrated this year with native foods. Many of the foods traditionally associated with Thanksgiving and native to America are exceptionally plentiful this year, say Extension specialists.

A record large turkey crop is coming to market. There is an ample supply of sweet potatoes, squash, and pumpkin. Another record crop—almonds—will be ready by holiday time as well as a heavy crop of filberts. With the exception of the nuts, all of these Thanksgiving foods are native to America.

Thanksgiving is the first American holiday. The tradition of celebrating Thanksgiving goes back to 1621, one year after the Pilgrims landed in Massachusetts. After surviving the difficult winter of 1620-21, the small group of colonists grew sufficient food during the summer to lift the threat of starvation. The Pilgrims had previously shared in similar festivals of a political nature in both England and Holland, and so they decided to hold a harvest festival, celebrating with feasting and games for three days.

Edward Winslow, one of the colonists, wrote that the Governor sent "four men fowling" for the first Thanksgiving. They returned with sufficient fowl to serve the company for almost a week. About 90 Indians joined the Pilgrims, contributing five deer to the festive board. Together, the number of Indians and Pilgrims taking part in the celebration totaled about 140.

The second Thanksgiving, in 1623, was held to give thanks for rain which broke a long drouth and saved the food supply from disaster. Edward Winslow wrote that this second Thanksgiving was a much more solemn occasion than the first with religious activities predominating.

Modern turkey hails from Mexico. In early days in America the Pilgrims ate "corne, pease, and barly," which they grew, and wild game, including wild turkeys, which abounded in the area at that time. Today's domestic turkey, however, is not descended from this country's wild turkeys which the Pilgrims knew. Rather, the modern turkey is an offspring of the wild bird of Mexico, domesticated by the Aztec and other Indians long before the Pilgrims landed. The modern turkey is the result of many years of selection and improvement so that consumers have a wide choice of birds—from small to large.

Larger birds have a somewhat greater proportion of meat to bone than small birds, furthering their economy.

Select quality turkey. In selecting turkey look for a bird that has: Clean, wax skin, with few pinfeathers and no bruises or discolorations; short legs, indicating meatiness; well distributed layer of fat under the skin; a wrapper not damaged or torn if the turkey is frozen, because exposure to air dehydrates the meat.

At the Markets

FRUITS: Apple supplies continue heavy with many varieties available at the present time. Prices for Eastern apples are equal to their price lows of the past two years. Western apples are also attractively priced. Seckle pears from the Hudson Valley and Western New York are plentiful, as well as grapefruit, avocados, limes, Western pears, grapes, and oranges.

VEGETABLES: Greens from nearby areas remain plentiful as the long growing season persists. Collards, kale, spinach, and even such tender greens as mustard and dandelion are available at attractive prices. Onions, particularly the medium-size yellow ones, are in especially good supply at present. Carrots, potatoes, sweet potatoes, butternut and acorn squash, cauliflower, broccoli, beets, and mushrooms are plentiful. While good supplies of Iceberg lettuce are available, quality and prices are quite variable and selections should be made carefully.

FISH: Leading species of fish include cod, haddock, whiting, flounder, porgies, and yellowtail.

EGGS: Eggs continue a top value with prices for large- and medium-size eggs at about 10 cents per pound less than a year ago.

MEAT: Adverse weather conditions in the Midwest and the threat of colder weather pushed marketings of cattle, veal, and hogs to the highest levels of 1959. Pork production has been running 15 per cent greater than last year. Veal production in late October and early November exceeded the previous year for the first time in many months. Beef and lamb production are also well above year ago levels. Demand for meats continues strong and prices have remained steady despite heavier supplies. Turkey marketings are at their annual peak in November.

High School Injuries

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—High school athletic programs resulted in injuries to 7,100 students in Wisconsin during the 1958-59 school year. State Medical Society figures, based on insurance claims, showed football accounted for 3,984, or more than 64 per cent of the total. Basketball added 1,184 to the injured list, wrestling 401, track 271, and baseball 194.

HERITAGE

The real threat to America comes not from a collection of "new military hardware," says Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Senate majority leader.

It comes, he says, from "the fact we have fallen behind in what has been an American specialty from the beginning — pioneering."

Well said, Senator. Similar thoughts seem to have moved the editors of a handsome book just off the presses. It is called "The Pioneer Spirit" and is published by the American Heritage Publishing Co.

This is no ordinary book.

Anybody who leafs through its 400 pages with 480 colorful illustrations showing the way America was discovered, colonized and flung across a continent, cannot help but thrill to the heritage he shares from these pioneers.

First: the dreamers and questioners, who believed that there was a new world over the horizon and dared to seek it.

Then: the men who carved a foothold in the forests and slowly began to edge westward.

Next: the struggles with the stubborn Indian.

At last: the greatest step since the first, the step toward independence from the Old World.

Followed by: the new frontiers, the conquest of rivers and mountains and the development of the machines to knit a great land together. The railroads, the steamships, the cotton gins, the reapers, the automobiles — the safety pin.

The pioneer man and the pioneer mind are not neglected. The buckskinned trail blazer gives way to Teddy Roosevelt, the Muckraters, Tom Edison, the Wright brothers — and at last the swarms of 20th century scientists and engineers.

Pioneers all. Your heritage and mine.

CAMPAIGNING ON TV

During the past several years, thoughtful men have been disturbed by the growing impact of television on election campaigns. The justification for their concern becomes more and more evident as we near the 1960 presidential campaign year.

Television has affected electioneering in a number of ways, some patently bad and others of dubious value. It gives candidates ready access to far greater numbers of voters, but at the same time it makes campaigning vastly more expensive. Worst of all, it allows the candidate to present the public with a televised "image" of himself which may be very far from the truth.

The increasing use of television threatens to make popularity contests of elections; it threatens to place a higher value on personal charm than on integrity and sound thinking. And the TV brand of personal charm is something that can be created—or at least greatly heightened—by artificial means.

Senator John F. Kennedy, one of numerous presidential aspirants who will be using television as a political tool in the months to come, wrote an article on this subject recently. In it he described television as "a medium which lends itself to manipulation, exploitation and gimmicks." He added: "It can be abused by demagogues, by appeals to emotion and prejudice and ignorance."

Senator Richard L. Neuberger of Oregon also had a word on the matter. He said that "if showmanship continues to replace statesmanship on the TV screen, the next logical step is to run for president some professional actor skilled in playing political characters." A touch of bitterness? Maybe. But before TV electioneering becomes too set in a bad pattern, the public had better make clear that it prefers solid discussion of the issues to a slick performance.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

SUMMIT CONFERENCES

The idea of a Summit Conference is not new. Such meetings have often taken place in history. Probably the greatest of them in modern times was the Congress of Vienna held after the Napoleonic Wars. Present at this Congress were the Emperors of Austria and Russia, the Kings of Prussia, Bavaria, Wurttemberg, Denmark and many lesser princes. Also Metternich and Talleyrand were there and they were the principal diplomats of Europe, the men who really broke the back of Napoleon. Talleyrand was the most brilliant diplomat and politician of his day and it was largely due to his cunning that France survived.

The Europe of the years between 1815 and 1914 was made by the Treaty of Vienna. It was an era of peace with only sporadic, limited wars. Naturally the Great Powers were never in agreement and many side conferences had to be held as so much of the world had to be rearranged. Also a number of limited wars and revolutions occurred. The emergence of Germany and its substitution for Austria, that is the substitution of Hohenzollern for Hapsburg, and the emergence of Japan as the principal country in East Asia and as an industrial and commercial competitor of both Great Britain and Germany brought, in 1914, the era of the Congress of Vienna to an end. This era witnessed no general war for nearly a century.

In recent years there have been several Summit Conferences. Teheran in December 1943, attended by Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin; Cairo in November 1943, attended by Roosevelt, Churchill and Chiang Kai-shek; Yalta in February 1945, attended by Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin; Potsdam in July 1945, attended by Truman, Churchill, then Attlee, and Stalin; Geneva in July 1955, attended by Eisenhower, Eden, Faure, Bulganin and Khrushchev. At Geneva, John Foster Dulles was also present and, in fact, represented the entire Western Alliance in the sense that he, rather than Eisenhower, was symbolic of the resistance to Soviet Russia.

There have been other top level conferences at which Roosevelt and Churchill met. There have been numerous foreign ministers' conferences which have been of equal importance with what are called Summit Conferences. For instance, the London Economic Conference in 1933, at which this country was represented by Cordell Hull and Raymond Moley, might have saved the world from World War II had it not been scuttled by Franklin D. Roosevelt who had no understanding of the science of money and is reported to have flipped a coin to make a decision about the value of gold. The coin fell on the wrong side.

The forthcoming Summit Conference is to be attended by Eisenhower, Macmillan, Khrushchev, de Gaulle, with somebody from West and East Germany as witnesses. Nobody can be a prophet about such things. A thousand imponderables may make a failure of the conference just as the death of John Foster Dulles brought an unbelievable weakening of American policy.

However it would appear at the moment that the United States and Soviet Russia desiring the Summit Conference to have a measure of success, a way will be found to win over de Gaulle and Adenauer. The United States, as a practical measure, may agree to de Gaulle's program in Algeria and Soviet Russia may, as a practical measure, stop interfering in the affairs of West Germany.

As a matter of fact, Soviet Russia has a strong stake in the continued existence of West Germany. Although American-based companies may not freely trade with Soviet Russia, West German companies, even though they may be American-owned, do deal with Soviet Russia. Also, European companies which are licencees of American companies and either import parts from the United States for assemblage in Europe or manufacture goods in European countries under American licenses sell such goods to Iron Curtain countries, including Soviet Russia. The methods of accomplishing this are various.

Thus, Soviet Russia, by these channels, may obtain American goods despite an American embargo.

It is very doubtful whether Soviet Russia would, at this historic moment, want to risk antagonizing the Common Market countries which can provide manufactured goods, particularly metals of which Soviet Russia has a deficiency, and can purchase or barter minerals, and other raw materials from Soviet Russia. It is therefore unreasonable to expect that de Gaulle will be played down either by Eisenhower or Khrushchev, no matter what else happens at the next Summit Conference.

Patients Can Benefit From Physician-Clergyman Accord

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Only a single generation has passed since Dr. Richard Cabot and the Rev. Russell Dicks undertook joint care of patients in the Massachusetts General Hospital. From their experiences, they wrote a historic book called "Ministering to the Sick."

Today, every progressive theological seminary has a clinical training program that includes exposure of the student to patient care in hospital wards. Most progressive hospitals have a chaplain or a group of chaplains, representing several denominations, whose duties include administering to the sick and aiding members of the medical staff to recognize and deal with the spiritual factor in illness. There IS one—of that I am sure.

The Rev. Granger E. Westberg, associate professor of religion in the University of Chicago's School of Medicine, makes the observation that doctors and clergymen show a "reluctance to work together on a professional level," although they are on a first-name basis when they meet socially in and out of the hospital.

In my experience, this reluctance is even more pronounced outside the hospital to the disadvantage of all concerned.

Meetings of family physician and family clergyman on a professional level are generally limited to occasions when the physician attends church or the clergyman becomes a patient.

Without presuming to enter into the reasons for this unhealthy aloofness, I should like to point out a few of the many advantages that may grow out of a closely knit interrelationship of family doctor and family theologian, whether of the same or any other denomination:

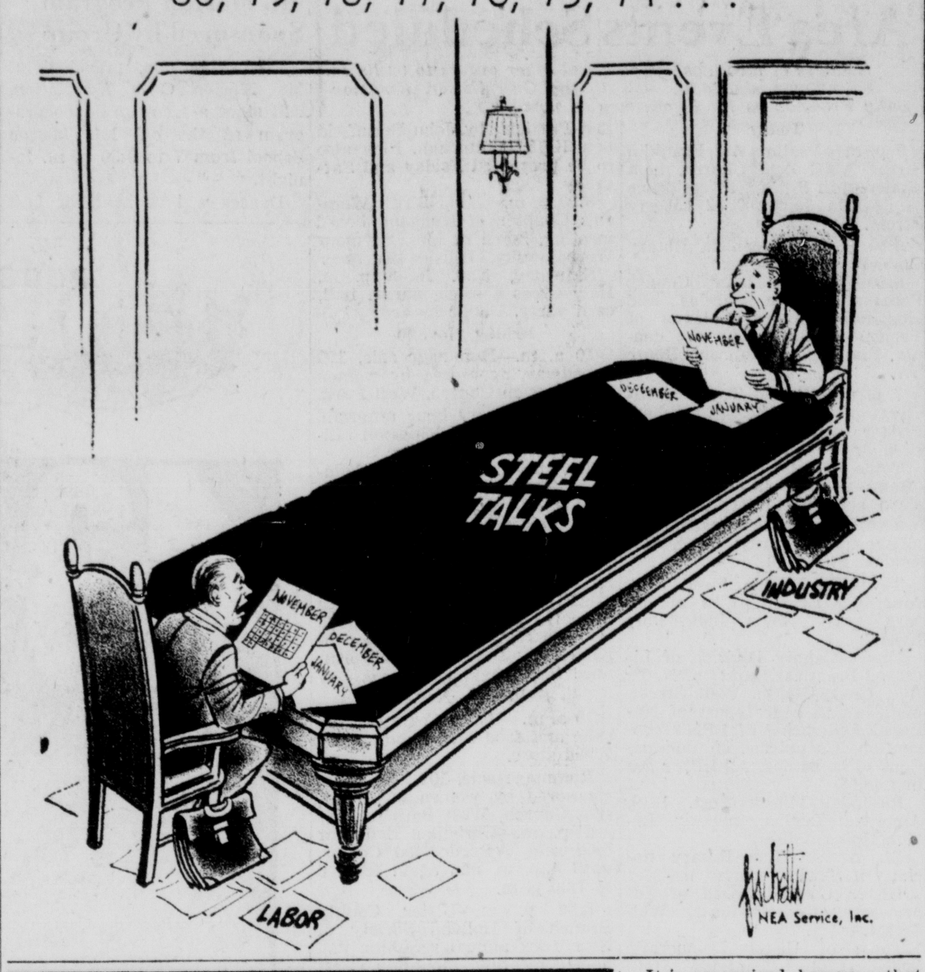

● The clergyman may alert the physician to personal and domestic situations that have a direct bearing on nervous and emotional symptoms and manifestations. By so doing, he effects a great saving in the time consumed with history-taking and may clear up an illness that has hitherto baffled the doctor.

● The physician may give a green light to "pastoral treatment" of personal and interpersonal problems. He may flash "red" if he suspects that the clergyman is becoming involved in a problem or situation that requires expert psychiatric attention.

● The clergyman helps the practitioner by getting the active co-operation of an unruly patient; by supporting the physician's recommendations for surgery or constitutionalization of a backward child or troublesome parent; or by a vote of confidence when there is a threatened breakdown of the doctor-patient relationship.

● The physician helps the clergyman and lessens the weight of his own heavy burden by encouraging a renewal of religious affiliation during times of acute stress, in the long course of chronic illness or throughout the agonizing certain recognition of fatal disease and actual crossing of the bar.

The principal beneficiary is the complex human being who is both patient and parishioner.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Criticism of the new policy to make underdeveloped countries borrowing from the U. S. Development Loan Fund spend their dollars in America, instead of in foreign countries, is giving Eisenhower administration officials a bad time.

It is tagged a "Buy American" policy. The criticism is that this is a step toward economic isolation, a return to high protective tariffs, big cuts in U. S. foreign aid and overseas military assistance.

SOME DRASTIC CONCLUSIONS have been drawn that American imports might have to be restricted, overseas investments curtailed and American tourist expenditures abroad limited. The purpose of these moves would be to prevent further dollar and gold drains from America, which if continued could lead to further devaluation of the dollar.

This is pretty panicky talk. But the best indications now are that none of these things is likely to happen. The United States just isn't going off its present gold standard.

The international financial condition the United States is now trying to correct is that this country is this year paying out four billion dollars more than it takes in. The situation is perhaps best illustrated by the more than 15 billion U. S. dollars held by foreign banks and corporations. Much of it is in short-term U. S. notes.

A typical way in which such holdings have been accumulated follows this pattern: The U. S. makes a loan to an underdeveloped country, to help it build a power plant. Instead of contracting with American firms for the steel, generators and construction work, the underdeveloped country gives it to, say, a German firm.

THE U. S. IS SUPPOSED TO GET its repayment from the underdeveloped country, on a long-term basis. But in the interval, the U. S. is left holding the bag. For the Germans get the American-loaned dollars. With them they buy U. S. short-term notes, payable by an international exchange of gold — the one final chip in all such transactions—if the Germans want to cash in their holding.

This is where the ultimate danger lies, if all foreign holders of U. S. dollars should want to exchange them at the same time. It isn't a critical danger, yet.

For the United States still holds half of the free world's gold supplies—20 out of 40 billion dollars' worth. The U. S. is the free world's leading banker.

As such, it has a responsibility to keep the American dollar sound, with an adequate gold reserve. Other free world governments recognize this act. That is why they are supporting the moves which the United States is now taking to stop further drains on its gold reserves.

Britain and France have already taken first steps to improve the American balance-of-payments position. They are lifting restrictions against imports from America and permitting their citizens to spend more U. S. dollars.

The United States did not object to such restrictions on American-made goods while foreign countries were recovering from the war. The United States has had few such restrictions on imports from other countries and no restrictions on what Americans could invest or spend abroad.

THERE IS NO APPARENT ATTEMPT on the part of the Eisenhower administration to go in for any economic isolationism can" restrictions now.

It is recognized, however, that or across-the-board "Buy Amerif the reciprocal trade agreements program or new foreign aid bills were now before Congress, passage might be difficult because of the present U. S. balance-of-payments deficit.

It is believed this situation can be corrected by administrative action of the U. S. and other free world governments before they are made political issues and brought before legislative bodies for action. But nobody knows, yet, what further steps will be necessary.

So They Say..

If they (Russian women) wore more bras, they would be happier and prettier. The men would be happier. Consequently the whole country would be more contented and I think Russia's relations with the U. S. and the world might improve.

U. S. Stand in Lynch Case May Have Repercussions

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — "Failure to prosecute" has, in effect, become a moral, if not a legal, defect in Mississippi, according to Attorney General Rogers. But will the sins of Omission of New York State also be exposed to the same Kleig lights of publicity? And who is now to monitor the cases dropped by the Department of Justice here?

Possibly it was thought that it would be good politics nationally to point publicly to the failure of a county grand jury in Mississippi to render any indictments in the lynching of an accused rapist. The Federal Bureau of Investigation, according to Mr. Rogers, was ordered into the case and spent about $80,000 in the investigation, although it was later decided that no Federal law was involved.

Should Federal money, therefore, also be spent to investigate the strange behavior of the New York State authorities in the TV scandals? It is openly admitted that, although scores of persons lied before the grand jury more than a year ago in New York County, only one person has been indicted there for perjury.

"I believe in states' rights," says the Attorney General "but I also believe in state responsibility."

Mr. Rogers called a special news conference Tuesday to say it was clear to him that "if the states are going to disregard responsibilities to the extent of not even calling witnesses" in such a case as the Mississippi lynching, "then the Federal government must consider something else."

There are many things the Federal government will have to start considering if this view of state responsibility is maintained.

One thing needed is a study of what causes lynchings and the extent to which technicalities in the law have been used to permit persons accused of crimes to escape punishment.

In the Mississippi case, for example, feeling ran high in February, 1959, when a twenty-three - year - old Negro, Mack Charles Parker, was arrested for raping a pregnant white woman in the presence of her four-year-old daughter, but there were no incidents while he was being held for the grand jury, which indicted him, or thereafter until just before his trial was to begin in April, 1959.

Unrest in State Noted

At about the same time unrest rose throughout the state about another case, in which Robert Lee Goldsby, a Negro given the death sentence in 1955 for murdering a white woman, had his execution stayed and had been granted a new trial by the Federal courts. The reason was that no Negroes had been empaneled on the jury which convicted him. The attorney of Mack Charles Parker, the accused rapist, announced that he would seek the same relief for his client—one which the Supreme Court has often granted in recent years. Gov. Coleman of Mississippi, who has repeatedly condemned lynching, has said that it was this possibility—that the accused Negro would go free on a technicality—which probably precipitated the lynching.

Technicalities often interfere with effective prosecution. Thus, for instance, residents of the national capital were reading today on the front pages all about Mr. Rogers' interest in the Mississippi lynching case, while on another page was an item revealing that a Federal judge here had blocked the use of certain evidence against a suspected rapist in the District of Columbia, who happens to be a Negro.

The episode concerned a thirty-three-year-old Negro woman who was forced into a garage, raped and robbed of her purse. Two police officers went to the home of the arrested suspect and asked his mother if they could search the house for the woman's purse. They said she gave her consent, and they found the billfold belonging to the raped woman. Now Federal Judge Youngdale says this evidence cannot be used in court. He pointed out that higher courts have ruled that such consent must be "freely and intelligently given," and said the mother admitted the officers because she thought she had a duty to do so. The judge added:

"It is difficult to believe that this particular woman understood the significance of what the officers told her; it is quite implausible to believe she was aware a search warrant was a perequisite to a valid search."

Cites Technical Argument

This is the kind of technical argument that is often invoked as a means of ruling out important evidence in criminal cases. Another species of technicality which is supported by decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States rules out any confession made by an arrested suspect when there has been an "unnecessary delay" in arraigning him before a magistrate. But how long a time can elapse before an arraignment must be made has never been determined by the Supreme Court.

Attorney Gerenal Rogers is to be commended for opening up the whole subject, of why state grand juries or state prosecutors do not always prosecute. Indidentally, he might look into the shortcomings of law-enforcement agencies in various cities and towns in those states where steel plants are located and where the supervisory personnel of the companies were in recent months forcibly prevented or threatened with bodily harm when they tried to enter their own offices during the steel strike.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Going back to June 22, 1899, in the Kingston Freeman I find a good dog story from Highland. It seems, Matthew LeFever had a dog at the storehouse of the Central Hudson Steamboat company that was a real boatman. He knew the sound of the several steamboat whistles and if Mr. LeFever was busy elsewhere when his attention should be given to one of the boats, the smart dog would go over to him, and take the man's hand in his mouth gently to lead him to his duty at the dock. They say, that it did not matter how many whistles were sounded at that busy place of Highland and Poughkeepsie, the dog knew which were the important whistles for which he had to get Mr. LeFever.

I read that they are training big dogs to work with the police in Baltimore and they are doing a fine job. No doubt New York City and many other localities will do the same eventually. Some of the big department stores use them as watch-dogs without supervision of a man and they make the rounds of the store themselves at night. Every pet owner has interesting stories to tell about his pet, too bad they are not written down.

At the same time in 1899 it seems the Highland trolley going around the curve, made a great deal of noise grinding the car wheels as it went around the curves from the village to the landing. The newspaper correspondent suggested greasing the curves, and that seemed to help. Conductor Clinton of the trolley road, said business was good; and they were carrying some 200 passengers in one afternoon from landing to village.

These excursions from Kingston always interested me. In the June 29, 1899 Freeman there is mention of a summer special excursion going each Saturday at 7:40 p. m. to New York and return at rate of $1.50 from Kingston. These tickets on the West Shore railroad were good for return trip the next day, Sunday, on trains leaving New York at 5:45 p. m. and 9:15 p. m. That would be real nice today.

Here is an item of a New York City woman running a chicken farm near Huguenot, while her husband continues his business in the city. This is also from the June 29, 1899 paper. At that time, a flock of her choice hens became ill. Mrs. Dingley decided the difficulty to be in their crops. With the assistance of her farm hand, Mrs. Dingley gave each of the six hens a little chloroform and operated on them. She cut out their crops and removed the cause, which was found to be grass and corn in a solid mass like glue. She then washed the crops out with warm water, and greased them inside with vaseline. Then she sewed them up again with silk thread. "Today," the item further reads, "the chiickens are alive and well, and run about eating as heartily as the other fowls."

Mrs. Dingley also raised some 115 broilers for the market from a setting of nine hens. "She accomplished this by removing each brood of chicks immediately upon their being hatched, and then placing fresh eggs beneath the hens." Some folks seem to be born with talent for that sort of thing, even though they are not farm bred. Only some folks just never find their talent as Mrs. Dingley did.

Sobering Ride

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—County police have found a new way to sober a drunken driver. Moments after officers put a drunk motorist in the back seat of their car another auto sped past. The patrolmen gave chase, stoped the second car, and arrested an escaped convict. The officers reported they "released the drunk we had in the back of the car since the chase completely sobered him."

Prize Winning Bird Man

CRANFORD, N. J. (AP) — Somebody gave Nicholas DiTulio the bird in 1956—and as a result he became a successful raiser of prize-winning pigeons. DuTulio started his gold trophy-winning flock when he was given a few pigeons left by the death of a neighbor.

Doubts Any Nation Can Long Keep Monopoly on Weapons

BOSTON (AP)—A space-defense expert says no nation or group of nations can long maintain monopoly in big weapons.

Israel Katz, head of General Electric's advanced electronics center at Ithaca, N. Y., added:

"Despite this, special weapons can be a monopoly of one or more allied powers over a period of time sufficient to affect the course of events and ensuing history."

This situation occurred several times during World War II, Katz told a panel session of the Northeast Electronics and Engineering meeting Wednesday. His paper recently was declassified by the War Department for presentation to the meeting. The panel was presided over by retired Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin.

"The course of history over the next 1,000 years might have been entirely different had the wrong side developed a temporary monopoly in nuclear weapons."

Thus, Katz said, a sustained lead in weapons technology may have a crucial effect on political problems and their resulting sociological consequences.

"We now find ourselves in a race to develop more effective, faster and surer means for implementing the legitimate purposes of military power.

"We find that strategic aircraft have reached a point of maturity from which further gains in speed, payload, range and survival probability in a hostile environment can be achieved only at great cost in terms of development effort, time and material resources."

He said that strategic aircraft and missile submarines without doubt will remain as part of the country's arsenal for the next decade.

Rockefeller Idea

Proposal Is Made For Pan-American Economic Union

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller proposes establishment of a Pan American Economic Union.

The Western Hemisphere Union —somewhat along the lines of the European Economic Community and other regional trade groups—would bargain as a unit with other parts of the world on trade policies.

The project as envisioned by Rockefeller also would reduce obstacles to the free flow of goods, capital and manpower among all the North American and Latin American nations.

Rockefeller, a potential candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, proposed the trade union Wednesday night at a dinner which ended the annual meeting of the National Foreign Trade Council.

He said the trade union he proposed is "both logical and eventually inevitable."

Rockefeller said his program would advance the cause of world peace, raise Latin American living standards, increase United States trade and open new opportunities for prosperity and growth throughout the hemisphere.

The governor, former U. S. coordinator of Inter-American Affairs and assistant secretary of state for Latin America during World War II, said of his trade union plan:

"By strengthening our ties—political, economic and social—with the other American republics, we can go a long way to help alleviate the unrest, the trouble and the unhappiness in Latin America.

In advancing his plan, Rockefeller cited the dangers presented by recent anti-American demonstrations in Cuba, Panama and other parts of Latin America. He said these upheavals could delay the achievement of a better life in many Latin American countries.

The hemisphere economic union, as outlined by Rockefeller, would include the United States, Canada and all the Caribbean and Latin American countries to the south.

WouldTreatAlcoholics, Drug Addicts in Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—A medical insurance group has announced plans to extend its medical coverage to include treatment for alcoholics and narcotics addicts.

The plans were announced Wednesday by Group Health Insurance, Inc., which now provides medical insurance to about 575,000 persons in more than 1,000 firms or groups in 18 southern counties of New York State.

Arthur H. Harlow Jr., president of GHA, said the extended benefits would be provided in a new schedule calling for an increase in health insurance rates.

The additional coverage is subject to approval by the State Department of Insurance.

Harlow said basic coverage would be expanded to include psychiatric treatment in a hospital for up to 30 days. This would include treatment for alcoholics and dope addicts, and up to 10 electric shock treatments a year outside hospitals.

Found by Boys

Woman Is Ruled Rightful Owner Of Jewels, Cash

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — A State Supreme Court jury has named a 65-year-old woman as the rightful owner of jewelry and $9,500 in cash found in a field by three boys last Feb. 1.

But Mrs. Mary Panek, who won the suit Wednesday night, still had to settle a claim by the Erie County Welfare Department.

The money and jewelry were found in a brown paper bag in a Cheektowaga field by the three boys, who were hunting rabbits.

They contested Mrs. Panek's claim, which led to a jury trial.

The boys, all from Cheektowaga, were James Weiglein, 11, Roy Anderson, 14, and Otis Montgomery, 13.

Another claimant, but not involved in the suit, was the county welfare department, which said Mrs. Panek had received about $8,000 in welfare funds during the five years ending in 1957.

Mrs. Panek and the department agreed to a compromise by which if the money was awarded to her, she would pay the county $5,000.

Mrs. Panek testified that every weekend she left the money in the field near her home when she went shopping. She told the court she distrusted banks and didn't want it left in the house while she was away.

She further testified that she had no money when she applied for welfare aid in 1952 and that the $9,500 had been given to her by her children.

Her son Walter, 40, testified that one of three watches found with the money was purchased by him when he was in Belgium in the Army. A ring also was found in the bag.

The jury, which began deliberating in the afternoon, took nearly eight hours to reach a decision.

Orange Student Killed, 5 Others Escape Injuries

NEWPORT, Pa. (AP) — A college student was killed and five others escaped injury Wednesday night when their automobile crashed off a highway and rolled over several times near this community in central Pennsylvania.

John E. Swartwout, 24, of Huguenot, Orange County, N. Y., was killed.

Other occupants were Charles Morey, 18, of Cortland, N. Y., James S. Karley, 19, of Pittsburgh, Richard C. Chase Jr., 19, of Erie, Richard A. Evans, 20, of Allentown, and Lewis H. Brown, 20, of York.

They were students at Pennsylvania State University.

Railroad Is Seeking 4.6 Fares Increase

NEW YORK (AP) — The Long Island Rail Road, the nation's bussiest passenger line, is seeking a 4.6 per cent increase in fares.

The line said today that because of mounting expenses it needed the higher fares to put the road "back on a break even basis."

A petition is being filed with the State Public Service Commission, the railroad said, to approve the increase, effective Dec. 10.

This would be the fourth boost since 1955 for the railroad, which carries an average 260,000 passengers daily on Long Island and in New York City, most of them suburban commuters with city jobs.

Woodstock Association Sets Alf Evers Lecture on Dec. 2

The Woodstock Association is sponsoring a special lecture on town history and development by Alf Evers, the official historian of the township, on Wednesday, Dec. 2, at 8 p. m. in the Kleinert Gallery in Woodstock.

Many months of preparation have gone into the gathering of the material and the shooting of more than 100 color slides which will illustrate Woodstock of the past and as it is now.

"We cannot understand or contribute properly to Woodstock today without knowing how the place came to be," says Evers, who is also president of the Woodstock Historical Society, a distinguished author and lecturer and an advisory member of the Woodstock Association.

In his lecture, Evers will review 250 years of Woodstock history, starting with Indian Chief Nansino's deal with Johannes Hardenburgh; the intrigues leading to Queen Anne's grant to Robert Livingston, the Revolution; Dutch, Yankee and Irish settlers, the period of farming, the glass factories and bluestone activities; the beginning of resort business, the development of arts and crafts, intellectual and creative influx and, finally, industry.

Points to Future

In conclusion, Evers relates Woodstock's varied and colorful past to an even more splendid future that lies within the choices made today.

"Never on our continent has so small a town as ours offered so rich a range of possibilities to its people, and, because of its very richness in human terms, never has a town so urgently needed to take thought to preserve its character and use wisdom in guiding its development, says Evers. "Only by living mindful of those who come after us, can we do our part in handing down the cultural heritage from the past and physical beauty of mountains, valleys and streams and forests which nature has bestowed upon us."

Among the persons who supplied information and materials for the program were: Mr. and Mrs. LaMonte Simpkins, Mrs. Bruce Herrick, Miss Florence Peper, Mrs. Cornelius V. V. Sewell, Herbert Keefe, Miss Gail Feeley, Mrs. Gladys Feeley, Mrs. Chester Glunt, George W. Roach, Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial Library, A. W. Bromley, New York Conservation Department, Mrs. Orville Elwyn, Victor Lasher, Mrs. Louise Zimm, William Hutty, Martin MacDaniel, Mrs. Hannah Vosburgh Cooper, Thomas Riley, Harry Siemsen and many others.

Attendance at the lecture will be by special invitation for members of the Woodstock Association and their guests, including town officials and representatives of local organizations. The lecture will be given a second time shortly afterward in the same place and will be open to the public. No admission is charged.

Onteora P-TA Slates Annual Open House at School Tuesday

The Onteora P-TA has announced plans for its annual "Open House" on Tuesday, Nov. 24, at 7:30 p. m. at the Boiceville school. This is a "back to school" night for parents at which time they will meet with the teachers and participate in their child's daily schedule of learning.

Prior to the start of the program, parents will be able to browse and buy at the Book Fair held in the main hall.

The elementary school parents will go to their child's room at 8 p. m., where the teacher will explain her objectives for the year, the curriculum at her particular grade level, the marking system and other items. A question and answer period will follow. After the teacher has familiarized the parents with the work of the class, there will be individual conferences with each parent regarding their child's school work and activities.

Parents with children at the secondary school level will go to desks set up near the gymnasium where signs at the desk will indicate the various grades. There, one of the Onteora students will give the parent the proper homeroom number and will then be escorted to that homeroom by one of the members of the Honor Society. Here the parents will be registered and given an exact schedule of his child's daily classes which they are to follow beginning at 8 p. m.

Parental Assistance

In each class, the teacher will outline what material has to be covered for the year and how it is achieved, as well as what is expected of each pupil. Very importantly, as well, the teacher will explain just how the parent can assist the student in his studies without "doing the work" himself. The class periods will be ten minutes apart.

Parents with children in the kindergarten will meet their teacher in the elementary library where the classes will be held. The Remedial Reading teacher will be conducting her discussion in Principal Vanni's office and the Speech teacher will be in the health office.

From 9:40 to 10 p. m., there will be a personal interview period when the parent may discuss his child with the teacher or teachers. If the interview is not completed at that time, the parent may make a future appointment for another discussion period. Paul Runge, director of the Guidance Department, may also be contacted to plan arrangements.

Mrs. Manuel Bromberg, P-TA program chairman, in planning "Open House" with the Onteora administration, faculty and students, is responding to the many requests of parents who have expressed an eagerness to learn more about the methods of teaching the various subjects and the value and relationship of each subject in preparing the student for the step beyond high school.

Educators realize more than ever that the child needs to feel the support and interest of his parents in his school work, plus the parents' knowledge of his work. There should be no chasm between home and school, since each is a vital factor in the child's life and for each to be fully effective they must meet and work together. "Open House" offers this introduction and opportunity.

After classes and conferences have been completed at about 9:30 p. m., all are invited to the refreshments and happy talk. In the cafeteria, visitors will also note that the sophomore class will be having a cake sale, the proceeds of which will be used for educational trips.

More student participation is noted this year, particularly from the Honor Society and the Student Council and it is certainly welcomed. The P-TA expresses its appreciation to them for their cooperation in helping to prepare the Book Fair.

An invitation is extended to all adults who want to know more about schools and schooling on Open House night.

Alumni-Varsity Benefit Game For Onteora P-TA

The Onteora P-TA Welfare Committee and Loan Committee will present the Alumni vs. Varsity basketball game for the second year in a row on Wednesday, Nov. 25, at the Onteora Central School gym.

Last year's game was won by the Alumni, 53-49, and starred Artie Gribbins, John Frankle, Teddy Jensen, Lou Vanacore, Charlie Cange and Marty Warnes. The varsity can be expected to make a strong bid to avenge last year's setback.

Joining last year's victorious Alumni will be members of Onteora's 1958-59 UCAL champions —Terry Grant, Herb Krein, Eddie Caruso, Dave Janick, Bruce Wiederspiel, Tom McCrosson, Ralph Matos, Bob Shulman and Rudy Hellenschmidt.

This tremendous array added to last year's victorious Alumni brings a lot of pressure on the current Onteora varsity, but there is no gloom in the halls at Boiceville. They figure it's their turn.

Proceeds of the game go to the P-TA Welfare and Loan Fund. There will be separate admission prices for students and adults, but everyone pays to see this one. Student Athletic Association cards will not be honored at this game.

All students, parents and basketball fans are invited for an evening of fun and excitement. A preliminary game is scheduled at 7:30 p. m., followed by the feature contest at 8:15 p. m.

Schillings Guests Of Methodist Men

Frank Schilling Jr., of Kingston, accompanied by Mrs. Schilling, will be the guest speaker at the November meeting of the Woodstock Methodist Men's Club on Monday, Nov. 23, at 8 p. m. in the Methodist Church Hall.

Schilling, who studied under Dr. Bruno Furst at the School of Memory and Concentration in New York City, will demonstrate feats of memory.

There will be a brief business meeting preceding the program, under the direction of Earl Jones, club president, and refreshments will be served following Mr. and Mrs. Schilling's demonstration.

Thanksgiving Service At Christ Scientist

A special Thanksgiving service will be held on Thursday, Nov. 26 at 10:30 a. m. by the First Church of Christ Scientist in Woodstock.

A period devoted to voluntary expressions of gratitude for God's goodness is included in the Thanksgiving Day service in all Christian Science churches. No collection is taken at this service and local members have invited the public to attend.

The Thanksgiving Day Proclamation of the President of the United States will be read at the service. Readings from the King James version of the Bible and from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will comprise the Lesson-Sermon for the day en-

The various committee chairmen are: music, Lawrence Webster, assister by Karen and Kathy Larson and Gail Green; decorations, Terry Breitenstein, assisted by Lynn Merch, Christine Dean, Glenn Lund and John Mower.

Jackie Majoros is refreshment chairman, assisted by Judy Beard, Carol and Elaine Cousins. Susie Perlman heads the publicity committee, assisted by Lawrence Webster and Robbie Walker. Allan Combs is finance chairman, assisted by Susie and Paula Perlman.

This Week Last To Get Special License Numbers

Automobile owners who desire to have re-issued to them low numbers, "lucky numbers," house numbers, phone numbers or any other special license plates for the 1960 season, must have their application in to the Ulster County Motor Vehicle Bureau office this week.

County Clerk Lawrence D. Craft today called attention to the "deadline" Friday. Due to the large number of people who seek these special numbers or "low" numbered plates, applications must be in no later than November 20. If applications are not received these special numbered plates will be issued to those on the "waiting" list.

Commissioner William S. Hults of the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles has called attention to the fact that while standard passenger car license plates will be issued for 1960 to owners of suburbans, a special suburban application must be used. Suburbans must be registered by January 15, 1960, and the fees remain the same.

In 1960 several classes of motor vehicles, previously exempt, must be registered for the first time in 1960.

These are self-propelled vehicles used at least partially on public highways, such as tractor engines, road rollers, tractor cranes, snow-plows, road sweepers and well drillers.

Suburban plates for 1960 must be displayed on vehicles on January 16, as must those for farm vehicles, trucks and other commercial vehicles.

Again this year, due to the increasing office work required by the State Motor Vehicle Bureau, Deputy County Clerk Ralph Post, in charge of the Ulster County Motor Vehicle Bureau office on Main Street, urges early application filing to eliminate the last minute rush and the inconvenience to applicants which ensues.

Figures Are Due Soon on Daily Use of Viaduct

A traffic count to gain new figures to show the extent of traffic daily on the Washington Avenue viaduct began Wednesday.

City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan today said that a first report on results would be available in a few days. The count as reported at the PSC hearing here this week on the city's bid to have the viaduct removed, will cover seven days of travel over the 45-year-old structure.

Traffic counts taken for three days in December, 1954 showed more than 4,000 vehicles using the viaduct on two of the days, and nearly 3,000 on another day. The peak hourly count was 703 and the low hourly count was 323.

Winds Up Visit

LONDON (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today winds up a visit to Britain which has cleared away some of the suspicions between the two countries and strengthened the Western alliance for summit talks with the Soviet Union.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan dropped his pet plan for an experimental disarament zone in Central Europe, which the West Germans feared would leave them defenseless against Soviet pressure.

Despite Rocky's Plea

AFL-CIO to Seek Shorter Work Week

BUFFALO, N. Y .(AP)—Brushing aside a suggestion by Gov. Rockefeller, the New York State AFL-CIO is going to seek a shorter work week, increased unemployment benefits and a higher minimum hourly wage.

At the opening session Monday, Rockefeller repeated his recent position that the nation might not be able to afford to maintain wages while cutting working hours.

At Wednesday's closing session, delegates passed a resolution seeking a seven-hour day and a 35-hour week.

Other Resolutions

In other resolutions, the labor group called for :

1. Extension of jobless benefits to all workers.

2. Maximum payments equal to two-third of the workers average weekly pay, instead the present maximum of $45 a week.

3. Extention of benefits for a 39-week period instead of the present 26 weeks.

4. Legislation setting the statewide minimum hourly wage at $1.50.

Back Rail Unions

In other resolutions, the delegates voiced support for the 23 railroad unions, which are soon to enter negotiations with the nation's railroads. One of these called railroad claims of "featherbedding", or make-work practices, on the part of the unions, a "brazen and shameless attempt to deceive the public."

The big labor group voted to back the railroad brotherhoods in their efforts to retain the "full-crew" law, which the railroads are seeking to alter.

They voted also to appoint a committee to study the findings of a state Labor Department probe into allegations of strike-breaking in the newspaper field.

More than 1,500 delegates attended the convention, the second annual gathering of the state AFL-CIO.

Discipline Policy

the college at New Paltz.

Speakers were Dr. Nathan Stillman, director of the Child Study Center, New Paltz; Dr. Howard Spalding, principal of the A. B. Davis High School, Mt. Vernon, and Louis Welch, senior attorney in the law division of the State Education Department.

Dr. Stillman emphasized that formulation of policies on discipline should be "a joint effort of school board members, administrators and teachers with jurisdiction clearly defined." He also advocated that students should be given more responsibility through effective use of student councils and other student government organizations.

Dr. Spalding said boards of education must "set discipline standards for the school and define the responsibility of those who should administer discipline." Board members must make a statement of discipline policy, delegate authority and not meddle in administration of discipline, he said.

In response to a question, Dr. Spalding expressed the view that a pupil over 16 years of age should be suspended if he is not doing productive work in school.

Welch outlined the New York State laws concerning school discipline and supervision and pointed out some specific regulations which school board members should know.

William Landauer, chairman of the board of education, Red Hook, served as moderator. Mrs. Madeline Johnson, a member of the Beacon Board of Education, is chairman of the School Board Institute planning committee.

The fall meeting of the Mid-Hudson School Study Council is scheduled for Dec. 7 at New Paltz.

John A. Roosevelt, Hyde Park, a member of the State University of New York board of trustees, will speak on "Problems of Higher Education in New York State."

Norman Thomas Nears 75

NEW YORK (AP)—The old warrior of American socialism, Norman Thomas, turns 75 Friday.

And he's still doing what he has done most of his life—battling against poverty, injustice and war and speaking out for the dignity of man.

"It's what makes life worthwhile," he says.

About 800 persons prominent in American life attended a dinner Wednesday night to honor the trim, white-haired man with gentle eyes and resolute face—the irrepressible rebel.

which convened Nov. 9 and terminates tomorrow.)

"2. That Senator Tompkins never made any attempt to postpone or change the day;

"3. That the taking of the depositions was commenced on Monday, Nov. 16, and was concluded before noontime on Nov. 17.

Ignored Situation, He Says

"Actually these inaccuracies were pointed out to the Appellate Division which denied the adjournment. Mr. Tompkins appeared in Kingston on Wednesday, the 18th, and blandly ignored the entire situation. Instead, he called a press conference and announced that he had issued an invitation for me to appear and testify and that if I did so it would be unnecessary for my secretaries to appear before the grand jury.

"I received a letter this morning in which Mr. Tompkins, in his usual evasive fashion, states that if I will testify 'it may be possible, depending on the decision of the grand jury,' to obviate the necessity of calling my secretaries.

"Senator Tompkins does not offer any firm or unequivocal proposal, and in view of his past record, his 'invitation' is not worthy of any consideration."

Steel Union . . .

ing to achieve the bulk of their infamous eight-point program."

This was a reference to the companies' demands for contract changes to gain more control over working conditions in the mills.

The new proposal, Cooper said, would have the companies pay the entire cost of life insurance and sickness-accident insurance heretofore paid for jointly by the companies and employes.

The offer was presented to the union during a series of secret bargaining sessions started shortly after the mills reopened under a Taft-Hartley injunction Nov. 7 after a 116-day strike.

Industy sources said the actual value of the package offer would vary slightly from company to company.

Big Stumbling Block

The work - rules question has been one of the chief stumbling blocks during the negotiations which date back to May 5.

The companies want contract changes to give management more say over working conditions in the mills. The industry previously offered to submit the question to arbitration.

Some 500,000 steelworkers returned to their jobs Nov. 7 under an 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction after a 116-day nationwide strike. The injunction expires Jan. 26.

The injunction specifies that work be resumed under terms of the old contract. It provided for an average hourly wage of $3.11 an hour.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Don't Let Child Learn to Use Food to Express Anger

Mrs. T. writes:

"Our little girl's school serves hot lunches. But it has a rule that forbids lower grade children to leave the table until they have eaten all the food they are served. Beth has a small appetite and is beginning to dread lunchtime because it means unpleasantness with her teachers when she can't finish her meal. Can you explain this rule?"

No. I don't understand it.

A child is properly jealous of his right to govern his own digestion. Though we provide him with food, it's his teeth that have to chew it, his stomach that has to work on it. In a world where so many of his activities are directed by us, he resents our attempts to control his digestive activities too. So, when we try to force him to eat, he will reject the food, not only because he doesn't want it but because he resents our domination.

This can be unfortunate.

Once he's learned to express resentment by refusing to eat, he may reject food whenever he gets angry at us. If we won't let him look at TV he may refuse to eat his supper. If we won't order the dessert he wants, he may refuse to eat his meat and vegetables. He'll shove his plate away whenever he feels displeased with us. Rejection of of food and retaliation have become the same thing in his mind, so that refusing to eat becomes his only means of expressing vengeful feelings toward us.

And later toward other people.

It is an unfortunate method of retaliation because it is self-destructive. We need food to live, and when we use self-starvation to express anger at people, all that happens is that we get thin while the people we're mad at stay fat.

In Victorian days young ladies whose lovers jilted them went in heavily for self-starvation. When they declined into the local graveyard it was popularly believed that they'd died of broken hearts. The truth was, the poor things died of unexpressed rage at their lovers.

Don't wonder. They couldn't help making the fatal connection between rage and rejection of food. They'd learned to make it in nurseries where Nannies made a habit of requiring "clean plates" from rebellious children.

Second Crash Is Fatal to Troy Office Manager

TROY, N. Y. (AP)—Police said a motorist smashed into six guard rails last night, left the scene, then hit a tree about 15 minutes later and was killed.

The victim was James E. Boland, 44, of Troy, office manager for a trucking company.

Boland struck the guard rails along Route 67 near Johnsonville, about 13 miles north of here.

About eight miles from Johnsonville, his car sideswiped another vehicle on Route 40 and careened into a tree at Spiegeltown, near Troy.

Stanley Arendt, 44, of Syracuse, the driver of the other car, was treated at a hospital and discharged.

Away He Goes!

LAKE GENEVA, Wis. (AP)—Donald Griffin's car stalled in a supermarket parking lot. Griffin, alone, figured he could work at the engine while having the gas pedal depressed. He put a heavy box on the accelerator, lifted the hood and started tinkering. The car, left in reverse gear, suddenly roared backward, made several wide circles in the parking lot, broke off a parking meter post and came to a stop in the street. Griffin, arrested for failure to have his auto under control, was fined $50.

Colleges Protest Loyalty Oath Tied To Student Loans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Many colleges are protesting a loyalty oath required of needy college students seeking federal loans to help pay for their education.

Some other colleges are supporting the loyalty oath. Some are participating only because they feel their withdrawal from the problem would penalize deserving students.

Contrary to Principles

Yale President A. Whitney Griswold termed the affidavit "contrary to the classic principles of our colleges and universities."

Harvard President Nathan M. Pusey called it an "affidavit of misbelief."

Both Yale and Harvard are among those schools dropping out of the program in protest against the affidavit.

Princeton University refused to participate at the outset of the program because, said President Robert F. Goheen, the loyalty oath provision "offers no protection whatever against those who would abuse our heritage of freedom and of law."

Columbia University has formally expressed opposition to the affidavit but participates in the program because "many Columbia students need the help that this act may bring to them."

Other schools are opposed to the program for different reasons.

Required Under '58 Act

The loyalty oath is required by the National Defense Act of 1958, which put the student loan fund into operation.

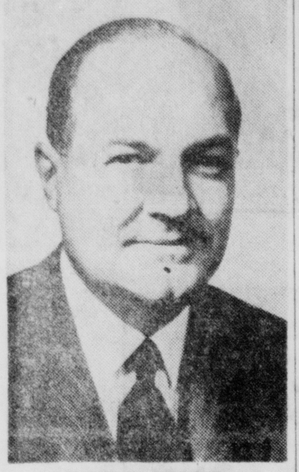

Required is an affidavit stating the student does not belong to, believe in or support any organization that believes or teaches the overthrow of the U.S. government by force or violence—or by any illegal or unconstitutional means.

The student borrower also must swear an oath to uphold the U.S. constitution.

An effort to knock out the affidavit was made last summer in the U.S. Senate, but it failed.

Last week, the 93-member Association of Land Grant Coleges and State Institutions told Congress in a resolution that opposition to the affidavit was growing throughout the nation.

Just Like HST, Humphrey Claims

PARSONS, Kan. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, campaigning for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination, said Wednesday night he's the same type Democrat as former President Harry S. Truman.

In a speech to 400 Kansas Democrats at a fund-raising dinner, Humphrey said: "If you haven't guessed it by now, I'm a Truman Democrat—and I want to say to you now, that's the only kind of Democrat that will ever win a national election."

Truman hasn't expressed a preference for any of the several possible candidates for the presidential nomination.

Improper, Says Haver

The Ryan indictment charging bribery was returned by the "regular" March 1959 grand jury last August. A prior indictment charging conspiracy had been ruled void by the higher court. The bribery indictment returned in August was attacked by Ryan's counsel, N. LeVan Haver, on the grounds the grand jury which returned the bribery indictment was not legally constituted, since it had been excused by Justice William Deckelman. The Appellate Division held that a grand jury, under the statute, must be held in session ready to be reconvened by the court until a new and succeeding grand jury had been empanelled. The Appellate Division held that the March Grand Jury had been properly reconvened by Justice Deckelman and that the indictment was legal.

Vapor Flare Rocket Fails

WASHINGTON (AP)— A second sodium vapor rocket was fired early today from Wallops Island, Va., but it failed to eject its brilliant yellow cloud at the top of its flight. The rocket itself rose to 160 miles.

Civilian space scientists were unable to say immediately why the sodium vapor failed to spew out of the rocket.

Other One Visible

Another sodium rocket fired Wednesday at dusk was visible for hundreds of miles along the eastern seaboard.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration plans a third sodium flare try Friday morning. The sodium clouds help scientists study wind currents at high altitudes.

Another rocket experiment at Wallops Island Wednesday night also fizzled. That was an electron-counting device designed to travel up more than 1,000 miles.

NASA said this morning's two-stage Nike-Asp sodium rocket thundered up at 5:51 a.m. Eastern Standard Time just before dawn.

At Cape Canaveral, Fla., Wednesday night the Army launched a Jupiter ballistic missile on a 1,500-mile flight.

The Army's Jupiter, an intermediate range missile, rose from its Florida launching pad trailing a mass of flame. It streaked down the Atlantic missile range on a scheduled 1,500 mile test flight and was to drop a dummy warhead near the island of Antigua.

Third Stage Fails

The Wallops Island sodium vapor rocket rose above the earth's shadow into sunlight 150 miles up and spewed out a cloud of yellow sodium vapor for the study of wind conditions at that altitude.

Later, the Wallops Island Scientists attempted to send a five stage research rocket to a height of 1,000 miles or more to count electrons in the atmosphere at level. This rocket was called Strongarm II.

But the third stage failed to ignite and the rocket only rose about 19 miles. It plunged back into the Atlantic 13 miles off Wallops Island, instead of the 800 miles it was expected to cover.

Major Thomas Rotary Speaker

Major W. Ian Thomas of Carnforth, England, who is engaged in round-the-world evangelistic work and who gives leadership to missionary enterprises in England, Germany, New Zealand and Australia, delivered a stirring messages to the Kingston Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon-meeting Wednesday.

Major Thomas and the Rev. Virgil R. Brisco, pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church in this city, were guests at the luncheon of Rotarian Frederic Snyder. The major's address, which was not scheduled prior to the luncheon, was a replacement and was considered one of the outstanding talks of the year.

Major Thomas, who is conducting a mission service at the Alliance Church here, is a director of the Youth Center at Capernway Hall, England. He has had a brilliant military record.

President Adrian Kaplan announced that the Kiwanis Club will be guests of Kingston Rotary at the pre-Thanksgiving luncheon-meeting next Wednesday.

Costs Reduced

Senior said reductions in personnel and operating costs of the board were saving another $500,000 a year. Additional changes would raise this to $1,000,000 in the near future, he said.

The chairman predicted several months ago such savings could be made.

Senior listed the savings among several steps he said the board had taken to implement Rockefeller's plan to make workmen's compensation "function in adherence to its original concept."

Would Cover All

He said the original concept included a "realistic" benefit rate. Injured workers now receive $45 a week. Senior has said he does not consider this realistic.

He also has recommended that the program be expanded to cover all workers.

Associated Industries plans to draft, on the basis of discussions at the meeting, proposals for the 1960 Legislature.

The organization of top industrialists and businessmen long has criticized some phases of the state's workmen's compensation and unemployment benefits programs. Associated Industries has said some workers who received benefits did not deserve them.

Ford Will Drop Edsel; Blamed On 1960 Sales

DETROIT (AP)—The Edsel today became the first casualty of the new automotive battle of the compact cars. Ford announced it will abandon the medium-price car immediately.

Introduced only two years ago, the Edsel never captured a market. Slightly more than 100,000 were sold. Less than 100 have been built in the last two weeks as Ford diverted scarce steel to its other lines.

In an official statement, Ford said sales of the 1960 Edsel model, which looks strinkingly like the 1959 Pontiac, "have been particularly disappointing" while response to all other company lines has been good.

Total 1960 model production of the Edsel has been approximately 2,800 cars. In all of 1959, only about 30,000 of the cars have been built.

The Edsel has been assembled at Ford's Louisville, Ky. plant. This plant will continue to build Ford trucks. The Mercury-Edsel-Lincoln division will become the Lincoln-Mercury division of the company.

Would Risk Fight

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today Indian forces cannot check reports that the Chinese Communists have built an airfield in Indian-claimed territory, without risking a fight.

He was questioned about reports the Chinese Reds have two strips in the 8,000-square-mile part of the Ladakh district of Kashmir disputed by the two countries.

Injuries Are Fatal

BUFFALO, N. H. (AP)—A man identified today as Stanislaw Gebski, 6, of Buffalo, died Wednesday in Meyer Memorial Hospital of injuries suffered Tuesday in a fall. A roommate made the identification.

Impressed by Both

NEW YORK (AP)—West Virginia Gov. Cecil H. Underwood says he is impressed both with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Vice President Richard M. Nixon as Republican presidential nominees. Talking to newsmen after paying a courtesy call on Rockefeller Wednesday, Republican Underwood said the GOP organization in West Virginia is probably pro-Nixon at the moment.

Small Reactor Is Developed to Use In Space Vehicles

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nuclear reactor the size of a five-gallon can has been developed as a potential long-lasting power source for radios, TV transmitters and other instruments in space vehicles.

This was announced Wednesday night by Chairman John A. McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission.

He said the 220-pound reactor — designed to be linked with a football-sized turbo-electric generator — has been successfully ground-tested in recent weeks. Still in the experimental stage, it is designed to generate 3,000 watts of electrical current for at least a year.

The AEC, in a separate statement, said the device might well be the forerunner of devices much more powerful, but still weighing only several hundred pounds.

And these, said the AEC, "would make possible long-lived weather satellites, world-wide TV communications, deep-space information transmission and eventually interplanetary travel."

Merchant Going To Panama, Hopes To Ease Tensions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department is sending its No. 3 official — Deputy Undersecretary Livingston Merchant—to Panama on a special mission aimed at easing tensions.

Merchant and C. Allan Stewart, director of the State Department's Central American affairs office, will leave by plane Friday.

The trip follows the State Department's offer to discuss mutual problems with Panama at a high level.

Protesting the U. S.-operated Panama Canal, Panamanian demonstrators on Nov. 3 hurled rocks at the American Embassy and the U. S. Information Agency headquarters. They also ripped an American flag and clashed with U. S. soldiers and police guarding the Canal Zone.

By ROBERT GRAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Time is beginning to prove that Gov. Rockefeller will not realize his original hopes for giving the public and the Legislature a long, advance look at much of his 1960 program.

The governor had said he wanted to release about now reports of several of the study committees that will recommend legislation in key areas.

No Decision Yet

He also had planned to submit gradually much of his program legislation during the pre-filing period—the seven weeks prior to Jan. 6, when the Legislature convenes.

But a Rockefeller spokesman said the day before the governor left on his recent west coast trip that no major decision had been reached on program legislation.

This announcement followed a six-hour meeting of Rockefeller, his top aides and the legislative leaders who will have to guide the governor's program to final passage.

The next such meeting will be held Monday. Rockefeller will leave that night for a six-day vacation at his ranch in Venezuela.

He returned from the west coast Monday and spent most of that day giving major speeches in Buffalo and New York City.

Rockefeller has been in his New York City office since Monday.

He will spend Friday in Rhode Island in another of a series of trips to various parts of the country. These are being interpreted widely as soundings by the governor of his potential strength for the Republican nomination for president.

December Likely

Thus, it now appears that the bulk of the announcements of the various committee reports, and accompanying legislation, will be concentrated into December if the governor carries out the plan to release committee findings this year.

The governor had said privately he wanted to space out the various announcements in order to allow the public to consider each separately.

Rockefeller and the legislative leaders also plan to make public announcements when they reach agreements on economies in the new budget. The governor has indicated that such announcements would be forthcoming before the first of the year.

Traditionally, the governor's legislative program is not announced in detail until he presents it formally in his annual message to the Legislature. Additional, major proposals are made during the session in formal messages to the lawmakers.

'60 Program First

Rockefeller plans to say early next year whether he will bid for the presidential nomination. But first, he has explained, he wants to complete his 1960 program and turn it over to the Legislature.

He has about 50 study committees at work in fields that include economic expansion, state aid, fallout shelters, taxation, education, juvenile delinquency, health insurance, power resources, airport development, park-recreation programs and housing.

Stepped Up Some

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Maj. David Soolpovar was talking with a member of his World War II outfit and when the two recalled other members of the army outfit, the name of Lt. John Patterson came up. The one-time lieutenant is now Gov. John Patterson of Alabama.

Squirrel Attack

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — A squirrel didn't like it when Newton McDonald, 90, started spraying his lima beans. The squirrel leaped off a bean pole and bit and clawed McDonald severely. The aged man got some nuts from a shed and threw them to the squirrel, hoping that he might finish spraying. The squirrel, however, attacked again, then scampered off.

Instant Toasted Onions Flavor Shrimp Savory Dish

FLAVORFUL shrimp savory gets much of its zesty taste from instant toasted onion, which now comes conveniently packaged.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

The aroma and flavor of this shrimp savory recipe results from two imaginative touches: first, just a suspicion of curry and then the addition of instant toasted onions, a new convenience food on your grocer's spice shelf. These instant toasted onions are ready to use with fish, meals and gravies, in soups and salads, and give you the crisp, crunchy texture and flavor of sauteed onions. No peeling, tears, waste, grease or odors on hands or in the kitchen. Also, you can be sure of their uniform onion flavor.

This savory dish can be prepared in about 10 minutes' time, yet it's a full meal in itself. You can use the shrimps alone or with ham. Omit the curry if desired. Steam your own favorite rice or use the precooked variety. Cook on top or place it in the oven.

Toasted Onion Shrimp Savory
(Makes 6 servings)

Four cups cooked rice, 1 No. 2½ can whole pack tomatoes, 1 cup cooked or canned shrimp (if ham is omitted, increase shrimp to 2 cups), 1 cup cooked ham, cut in chunks; ⅛ teaspoon garlic powder, ½ green pepper; 3 tablespoons instant toasted onions, ½ teaspoon curry powder, salt and pepper to taste.

In a heavy saucepan combine all ingredients and heat thoroughly over medium heat. For an oven dish, combine all ingredients and turn into a greased casserole, sprinkle top with grated cheese and bake in a moderate (350 degrees F.) oven 30 to 40 minutes, until hot and bubbly.

Cheese Toasted Rolls

Select oval or long French rolls with fairly soft crust. Split lengthwise and butter gererously. Sprinkle with a mixture of grated Parmasan cheese and grated chedder cheese. Dash with paprika and heat under broiler a few minutes before serving.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Toasted onion shrimp savory, steamed rice, cheese toasted rolls, mixed green salad, fresh fruit bowl, coffee, tea, milk.

Suspect Shoots Self

BOSTON (AP)—Cambridge police reported today that Edward F. Tumulty, 34, sought for questioning in the slaying of a Boston secretary and her male friend Wednesday night, shot himself today on the grounds of Cambridge Public Library.

Police Sgt. John Norton said Tumulty shot himself behind the right ear. Doctors at Cambridge City Hospital said he was not expected to live.

Police had sought Tumulty after Miss Barbara M. Betts, 30, brunette divorcee, and Louis Vuona, 40, a Worcester engineer, was shot down on a Back Bay street.

NBC Will Resist Rocky's Plan on Separate Parleys

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller's system of holding separate news conferences for newspaper and wire service reporters and for television and radio personnel has drawn united opposition from the three major networks.

The latest statement of opposition came from NBC.

An NBC spokesman, responding to a query, said in a statement Wednesday night:

"NBC has no cut and dried policy, but we will insist strongly on our right to cover press conferences at the same time the other media are present."

Previous statements by ABC and CBS gave different extents to which these networks said they would carry their opposition to Rockefeller's system.

Separate newspaper-wire service and radio-television news conferences were scheduled by Rockefeller while he was in Los Angeles recently on a western tour.

CBS said in a protest statement that its radio-TV reporters and cameramen would cover any future news conference "only at the same time and place as it is covered by representatives of other news media."

ABC said after the Los Angeles incident that it would carry verbal news reports on Rockefeller's trip "but would not attempt to present to the American people pictorial reports of the governor as spontaneous until we get access to the original press conference."

At Los Angeles, Rockefeller scheduled a conference with newspaper and wire service men first, and one with radio-TV personnel a short time later. The radio-TV men then walked out.

The networks contended that Rockefeller could thus "rehearse" before the newspapermen the questions he would be asked later before the cameras and microphones.

Rockefeller has said the practice of holding separate conferences for the two types of news media is good for both him and the media. He likes to look at his questioners during a session, he said, and the bright lights of television tend to blind him. He said he followed the same separate session policy since taking office as governor last January.

Man Loses Life, Two Women Hurt In Upstate Fire

TROY, N. Y. (AP)—A 35-year-old man was killed and two women were injured today when fire engulfed a two-story frame house in nearby Brunswick.

Samaritan Hospital identified the dead man as John Ryan, about 35.

Reported in fair condition at the hospital were Mrs. Emma Nagengast, 66, and Miss Mary Diamond, 69.

Four other persons in the house fled to safety. They were not injured, State Police said.

They were Elizabeth Matz, 90, Anna T. Herman, 79, Elizabeth Thompson, 89, and Mary Ryan, 64, the dead man's mother.

All lived in the house.

Firemen said the flames apparently started in the cellar.

There was no estimate of damage immediately.

Hunter Is Still Critical Today

The condition of Jordan Parni, 56, of Route 1, Saugerties, who was shot out of a tree in a wooded area of the Town of Saugerties Tuesday afternoon by a hunter who mistook him for a bear, was still critical today at the Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill.

Parni was hunting in the area when he decided to climb a tree to obtain better visibility.

Henry Balogh, 33, RD 2, Walden, Orange County, mistook Parni for a bear and fired at him with a .300 Savage rifle. The bullet struck Parni in the right leg and was deflected upward, rupturing his bladder and injuring his spine.

Balogh rushed to Parni's side when he fell. He then ran a half mile to Route 32 where he got a ride to a telephone and called for help. No charges were placed against Balogh. Parni was carried from the woods in a canvas stretcher by members of the Citizens Hose Company Rescue Squad of Catskill.

October Income Up Again Despite Strike at Mills

WASHINGTON (AP) — The income of all Americans rose in October for the second straight month despite the steel strike, the Commerce Department said today.

Personal income, a broad measure of purchasing power, increased by one billion dollars to an annual rate of $381,900,000,000. A 200-million-dollar drop in rate of wage and salary payments was more than offset by increases in some other types of income.

Farm income, for example, was up 500 million dollars to an annual rate of $13,900,000,000.

Government benefit payments rose by 300 million dollars, largely because of unemployment benefits paid workers laid off by side effects of the steel strike.

With interest rates rising, interest income also increased by 300 million dollars.

Can't Substitute Complacency for Tensions: Mahon

WASHINGTON (AP)— The nation must avoid "substituting complacency for tensions," says the chairman of a House appropriations subcommittee in charge of defense spending.

Rep. George H. Mahon (D-Tex) said in an interview today that while there has been "a reduction in tensions, there has been no material decrease in the danger to our security."

The obvious reduction in tensions, Mahon said, grew out of the recent visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"While tensions seem to have lessened," Mahon said, "there has been no assurance that I am aware of that there has been a lessening in the danger to our security. We must remain alert and keep up our guard. We must take no risks."

Mahon said he was not disturbed by reports that next year's defense spending budget will be about the same as this year's—in the neighborhood of 41 billion dollars. Present plans call for some manpower cuts, but increased funds for missile programs.

Weekend Summits May Some Day Be the Fare

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If things go right—and they probably won't—future heads of government will have a kind of international club where one push on the buzzer will bring them together for a weekend summit.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain has just hammered on an old theme of his again. The coming summit conference must be followed by a series of such meetings. Premier Nikita Khrushchev is all for frequent get-togethers, too.

Ike May Be Changing

That isn't the way President Eisenhower saw it, at least until recently. Maybe he's changing his mind. No longer ago than last summer he was talking against summit meetings and yearning for the good old days of foreign ministers' meetings.

Yet, in the short time since then these things have happened:

Later in the summer he made a fast trip around Western Europe to see the Allied leaders; he had Khrushchev over here and promises to return the visit; next month he's going to 11 foreign countries to see the leaders; then he joins a pre-summit meeting in Paris; and in the spring will be off to the summit itself.

Macmillan became a sturdy advocate of frequent meetings between heads of government after he journeyed to Moscow early this year, talked with Khrushchev and felt this was the way to get things done, although what he got done isn't clear.

Called Messenger Boys

At the same time Khrushchev dismissed and belittled foreign ministers as a bunch of messenger boys who could do only what the top men permitted them anyway. And, since this was the case, he reasoned, then:

Since only the top men — the heavyweights—could really decide anything, then let them meet and get going.

This was what Eisenhower was saying in mid-summer:

1. He doesn't like the modern development of diplomacy—the summit conferences. He considered it a step backward for the heads of state to spend their time on work that belongs to specialists, like foreign ministers.

2. He preferred seeing the ministers enjoy the exercise of the great authority given them in the 19th century.

As an example of what he didn't like about the summit idea he cited the 1807 meeting between Napoleon and Czar Alexander of Russia on a raft in the River Niemen near Tilsit. They talked of dividing up the world but later became fierce enemies.

But there were some very practical and excellent reasons for letting foreign ministers do the meeting in the 19th century. Getting to and from an international meeting in those days of sail stagecoach, steam and trains took weeks or months.

Time No Barrier Now

No president would want to be out of the country—and actually out of touch—so long. But with modern air travel presidents and prime ministers can go half way around the world in a day, meet several days, and be home within a week.

And while away they can be kept just as fully informed about events and problems at home, like radio, as they would if they had never left Washington.

True, foreign ministers, being specialists in their field, can go into vast detail in reaching agreements that would be beyond the scope of presidents and prime ministers who, not being specialists, know problems only in a general way.

Need General Agreement

But, before the ministers can even get into detail, there must be a general agreement. And, as Khrushchev points out, they can't agree on anything unless the top man at home says so.

That brings the argument back to Khrushchev: Since only the top men can really reach agreements, then let them meet, try to agree in a general way, and, having done that, turn the details over to the foreign ministers.

If the spring summit meeting proves fruitful at all, it will increase the pressure on government heads to meet more often. Even a failure wouldn't discourage the idea they should try again.

One thing seems certain: That in the modern world the role of the foreign minister—as a settler of problems—will move further into the background while more of the spotlight stays on the top man.

Cornell Student Dies

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — A Cornell University law student died in a hospital today of a head wound that, authorities said, apparently was self-inflicted.

Allen B. Potter Jr., 23, of Syracuse, never regained consciousness after the shooting in a motel room here Wednesday.

Potter's body was found slumped in the shower, a .22 caliber rifle and a note to his wife and brother nearby, the sheriff's department said.

Fluid Milk Prices Average About Same

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today that early November fluid milk prices averaged about the same as for October at both producer and consumer levels.

Prices paid by dealers for fluid use milk in about 160 markets averaged $5.64 per hundredweight (3½ per cent fat basis) in early November. This was an increase of 1 cent from October but a gain of 6 cents from the November average price a year ago, and 8 cents above the 1953-47 November average.

Home delivered single quart prices of milk in 25 major cities averaged 26 cents, unchanged from October. However, the home delivery price was four-tenths of a cent above the November 1958 price and 2 cents higher than the 1953-57 average.

Violin Maker

LONG BRANCH, N. J. (AP) —A retired bus driver ran his fingers over the highly varnished contours of his 70th violin and commented, "I think at last I'm ready." For 50 years, George Washington Hall has devoted his spare time to the art of fine violin making. Now, at 68, he feels that his work has finally come up to his own exacting standards. Of the 70 violins he has made, 60 are stashed in dismembered heaps in an old trunk. Of those remaining, Hall considers six "good" and four "my best."

Canada's westernmost province, British Columbia, is one and one-half times the size of Texas.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef and pork are being given the big push by supermarkets for pre-holiday eating this week.

Prices are attractive. Beef rib roasts are down as much as 12 cents a pound in the East. Pork chops dropped 4 cents.

Lamb continues in good supply with price reductions ranging from 4 to 6 cents a pound.

Weekend specials generally revolve around beef roasts, steaks and the various cuts of veal, pork loins and butts, leg of lamb and chops.

Chipped beef is featured around the country. There are good buys in bacon, pork sausage and canned hams.

Turkeys and the traditional Thanksgiving trimmings started making their appearance with many areas featuring them to attract early buyers.

Housewives are finding their best vegetable buys in medium size yellow onions, Long Island potatoes, and such typical holiday fare as sweet potatoes, brussels sprouts, mushrooms, carrots and spinach.

There are bargains too, in beets, pascal celery, cucumbers, endive, escarole, broccoli and squash of the acorn, butternut and hubbard varieties.

Head lettuce is selling in wide range of quality, condition and price.

For more expensive tastes there are good supplies of artichokes, snap beans, egg plant, peas, peppers, tomatoes, green and yellow squash and domestic cabbage.

The flow of Florida citrus to market is increasing. Best buys in fruit are grapefruit, oranges, limes, avocados and apples.

Medicine for a Blue Mood: Something New or Creative

When a woman is feeling low she can almost always get a lift from—

- Walking into a beauty salon and saying, "I'm sick of the way I've been wearing my hair. I don't care what you do to it—just so it is a complete change."
- Splurging a little on a dress that "does something" for her.
- Shoving the furniture aroung to give her house a new look.
- Rolling up her sleeves and pitching into the job of housecleaning.
- Calling up a friend and saying, "Let's go shopping and have lunch downtown."
- Potting a plant for the house, cutting flowers and arranging them, or digging in the garden.
- Doing something thoughtful for someone whose troubles make her own look small by comparison.
- Baking a cake, stirring up a batch of homemade bread, or making jelly.
- Planning a party—deciding on the guests, planning the menu, and so on.
- Deciding to join an exercise class, take a sewing course, or enroll in a night school course.
- Getting out a can of paint and a brush and going to work on a drab room or an old piece of furniture.

When a woman is momentarily depressed or dissatisfied there are dozens of ways she can work herself out of the doldrums. The only important thing is that she get busy doing something.

Observe Holiday In Real Custom, Governor Urges

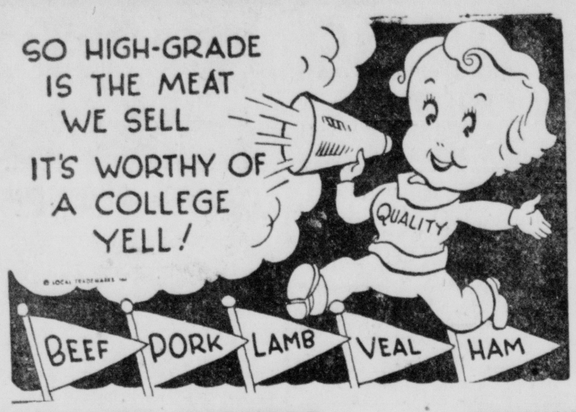

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller urged New Yorkers today to observe Thanksgiving in "the traditional custom of our God-fearing forefathers."

"There is no more essentially American holiday in our calendar than Thanksgiving," the governor said in a proclamation. He added:

"It expresses our love of country, love of family, love of our neighbors and love of God. It is an occasion for both pride and humility."

Thanksgiving is next Thursday.

• BRIDGE

One Dodge, Then the Rout Began

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The old-time bridge player is apt to get careless as the years go by and is not too likely to keep up with modern bidding technique. But when it comes to dummy play the old timer is still there.

If you don't think so look at this delayed triple squeeze played at the Cotton States tournament in Memphis by Jeff Glick of Miami Shores.

Jeff looked at the dummy and counted 11 top tricks. He ducked the first diamond to set up a squeeze situation and when East let a heart go on the next lead he was ready to operate.

He won that second diamond in his own hand and promptly cashed three rounds of hearts to see who would show out. When West failed to follow to the third round Jeff had no further worries.

He simply led a diamond to dummy's ace and ran off his spades. On the last spade lead West had to discard down to two clubs in order to hang on to a diamond and dummy's last diamond was discarded.

Now East felt the pressure. He had to let go of a club in order to hang on to the jack of hearts and three club tricks gave Jeff his slam.

Sight for Safety

DUNMORE, Pa. (AP) — A civic club decided to sponsor free eye tests for hunters this fall. Hunters mistaken for game have been killed or wounded in past years.

Army Engineer Reserves Open Recruit Drive

The local U. S. Army Engineer Reserves launched a recruiting drive with the announcement recently that openings are available in all units of the 854th Engineer Battalion for enlistees in all reserve categories.

The high school senior under 18½ years of age has the greatest opportunity in the Reserve program. However, Captain William C. Waldele, Company commander, points out the advantages of enlistment for those over 18½ years of age.

Contact Unit Aide

Commander Waldele stated that high school seniors may enlist now and serve six months active duty after July, 1960, and upon returning from active duty they will serve for three years in the Ready Reserve. Those interested should contact the unit aide at Battalion Headquarters on Flatbush Avenue.

Those persons between 18½ and 26 years of age who enlist now will be called within 120 days of enlistment to serve for six months of active duty and five and one-half years in the Ready Reserve.

Quota Limitations

Captain Waldele stated that because of quota limitations, those who are interested should also place their names on a quota list by calling the unit aide at the Flatbush Avenue headquarters.

Personnel with prior service in any branch of the military may enlist in appropriate grades, depending on the number of months since discharge.

Service with the 854th Engineers provides training by graduate engineers in construction and civil engineering. At the same time, reservists serve with their own neighbors and with officers and non-commissioned officers who are often important individuals in local industry.

Receive Pay, Credit

Reservists meet for approximately two hours on their designated meeting night. For this they receive the equivalent of a full day's pay and credit toward their retirement.

Individuals who desire further information may confer with members of the local Headquarters Company by visiting the unit in the newly opened U. S. Army Reserve Center on Flatbush Avenue, on Thursday evening. They may also visit on weekdays except Saturday by calling the Army Reserve Center between 8:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. for an appointment.

Education Office Now at GW School

The business office of the board of education of Kingston School District (Consolidated) has been relocated from the high school to the George Washington School, it was announced today.

Charles Klothe, business manager, and his staff have transferred their operation to the Washington School, 67 Wall Wall St.

The school district's administrative offices will remain in the high school. Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent, and Franklyn Hazard, assistant superintendent, have their offices there.

Mrs. Edna Morgan, school tax collector, will maintain her offices in the high school until after completion of the collection of the second installment of taxes Dec. 15.

Different Type Night Shows Is Studied by CBS

NEW YORK (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System is considering way of getting more of different types of shows into its schedule of evening television.

Indian War College

NEW DELHI (AP) — India will open a national defense college early next year to educate her officers in the broader aspects of war. The Indian military forces were established by the British in the days before independence. Since 1947 Indian officers have attended Britain's Imperial defense college. Only two or three places were available to them in each class. The new college will be opened in the former British high commission buildings in New Delhi.

Kills 'Very Dear Friend'

Curtice Pale, Shaken After Hunting Mishap

WALPOLE ISLAND, Ont. (AP) —Pale and shaken from grief and shock, Harlow H. Curtice, retired president of General Motors Corp., accompanied the body of the friend he had accidentally shot and killed out of the St. Clair River marshes.

"Harry Anderson was my very dear friend for many years," the tall, dignified industrialist said.

The 66-year-old Curtice was ashen faced and had difficulty mustering words in describing the hunting accident to Ontario provincial police Wednesday.

Were Hunting Ducks

Harry W. Anderson, 67, a retired GM vice president, was killed by a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun fired by Curtice as they were hunting ducks on Ste. Anne's Island in the St. Clair River, between the United States and Canada.

Provincial police said the accident occurred at 11 a.m. Wednesday. Curtice and Anderson were sitting side-by-side in a duck blind in the marshes. Anderson stood up just as Curtice raised his gun and fired at a flock of ducks passing over. The charge struck Anderson in the right side of the head.

A Chippewa Indian guide was hiding about 25 feet behind the blind.

The guide said Curtice aimed at the lead duck of the flock and as he fired Anderson stood up and stumbled directly into the line of fire.

The hunters had been waiting in vain for several hours for ducks to show up and were almost ready to quit.

Curtice retired as president of GM Aug. 31, 1958. He is still a GM director. Anderson retired Dec. 31, 1956. He leaves his wife, Veda, 40, and a 4-year-old daughter, Jane Kristan.

Woman Granted Parole

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A parole has been granted the woman prisoner whose embarrasing pregnancy touched off an investigation of a Memphis jail.

The Tennessee Pardons and Paroles Board stipulated Wednesday, however, that Lela Fay Fleck can only be paroled to California, her home state. She is serving one to five years for robbery.

The 22-year-old divorcee gave birth to a son last week. She became pregnant while in jail and told a grand jury she had two sheriff's deputies as lovers.

Worst of Cold In Most Sections Appears at End

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More frosty weather nipped the Deep South today but the worst of this week's unseasonable cold wave appeared ended in other parts of the country.

A rising temperature trend was reflected in nearly all sections except the Southeast. It was below freezing for the second straight morning in parts of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas.

Although southern Florida escaped the cold air, heavy rains drenched sections of the east coast. Miami was doused with more than three inches of rain, with many streets flooded.

Temperatures were near or a little above seasonal levels in the mid-continent.

Light snow flurries continued near the shores of the Great Lakes and in the higher elevations of interior sections of New England.

Excused as Juror

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — An examiner in the state auditor's office was excused from jury duty in a murder case Wednesday. Examiner Sherlock Holmes said he'd read about the case in the newspapers and made some deductions.

Permanent Park Theater Is Plea Of Helen Hayes

NEW YORK (AP) — Helen Hayes urged the city's highest ranking officials Wednesday to approve an expenditure of $250,000 next year to build a permanent Shakespeare theater in Central Park.

She appeared at City Hall before the Board of Estimate, upper branch of the city's legislative machinery and headed by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

The first lady of the American theater confessed to nervousness as she made her plea for the fund allocation, proposed by the City Park Department.

Miss Hayes told the board that the Medal of the City of New York —presented to her by Wagner some time ago—"is my proudest possession."

"I am prouder of New York City than of anything else in the world," Miss Hayes said. "But when I go abroad and see the fine theaters that cities there have given their people, I become a little wistful. I wish New York would do as much."

A city appropriation for a permanent theater in the park was proposed after private production of free Shakespeare in a makeshift theater in the park ran into difficulties.

Peck Drops Part He Was to Do With Marilyn

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gregory Peck says he walked out of a movie with Marilyn Monroe because of a schedule conflict.

But rumor has it that it was the lines, not the times, that caused Peck to bow out. Peck reportedly argued with Marilyn and her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, over the size of their respective roles.

One source says Marilyn and Miller tried to build up her part, and that Peck objected.

No replacement has been named yet for Peck.

The movie originally was entitled "The Billionaire." Its new title: "Let's Make Love."

Woman Uses Forklift To Help Injured Man

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—A woman bookkeeper used a warehouse highloader to lift an automobile off an injured man Wednesday.

James Flanders, 39, warehouse foreman at a beer distributing firm, suffered fractures of the left collarbone, right elbow and wrist. The car slipped off two concrete blocks while he was underneath repairing the exhaust pipe.

Mrs. Edward F. Everman, 32, heard Flanders scream. She ran from the warehouse office, jockeyed the forklift into position and raised the car.

She had learned to operate the highloader on her own.

Team of Doctors Save Arm Almost Severed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Ellie Jung, 24-year-old San Antonio waitress, still has the use of her right arm, thanks to a team of doctors who worked to save it after it was almost severed in an auto accident.

When Miss Jung arrived at the hospital Tuesday the arm was dangling loose, connected only by two muscles, a tiny blood vessel and two nerves. Her right hand and forearm were cold and showed no pulse.

During a five-hour operation, a team of two orthopedic surgeons and a heart specialist first repaired the shattered bone and then the severed artery. By the end of the operation the arm had been reattached and circulation had been restored.

Hadassah Prepares For Aliyah Program Set for Monday

The reception is planned for 8:30 p. m. at the Governor Clinton Hotel. All contributors to the drive are invited to attend the event. Mrs. Melvin Navy, Youth Aliyah chairman, has stressed that there is no minimum contribution set and that the reception is open to all. Donations may be made at the door.

Goldstein, star of the program Monday evening, performs in, arranges and directs one of the most varied programs to be found at any resort hotel. Successor to the legendary "tummlers" once found on the staffs of all Catskill hotels, he does a daily routine of comedy monologues and nighttime talent revues, in addition to planning sports, classes and audience participation activities.

A native of Brooklyn, Goldstein attended Long Island University and began his career at Grossingers as a boat boy. His appearance for Hadassah here will be one of approximately 30 one-man-shows he does each year before organizations throughout the country.

Proceeds from the annual Youth Aliyah campaign benefit the rescue and rehabilitation work of the world-wide organization, for which Hadassah serves as U. S. representative. In its 26 years of services, Youth Aliyah has rescued more than 90 thousand youngsters from 72 countries and given them new homes, education, medical care and vocational training in Israel.

Important Role Played by Secretaries In Business World Stressed by Speaker

Organization principles of business was the topic of guest speaker, Alton Marshall, secretary, Public Service Commission, Albany, at the monthly dinner-meeting of Kingston-Poughkeepsie Chapter of the National Secretaries Association held November 16 at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Mr. Marshall, in his talk, emphasized the important role played by a secretary in the organizational structure of business as he clarified the different types of principles of business organizations.

Initiation ceremonies were held for three new members joining the Chapter. They are Mrs. Carol Perry, Mrs. Sylvia Popick and Miss Eileen Rider.

Education chairman, Mrs. Gloria Starling, announced the deadline for filing application forms for the Certified Professional Secretary examination which will be held May 6 and 7, 1960. The test is open to all qualified secretaries, 25 years of age or older, men as well as women, members or nonmembers of The National Secretaries Association. Aimed at giving secretarial work professional status, the test is held in selected colleges and universities throughout continental United States, Canada, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. It covers skills, techniques and basic knowledge of six phases of secretarial work.

Mrs. Shirley Gorham, president, announced the installation of the Association's first Mexican chapter on November 7, 1959 in Mexico City. Thirty-two bilingual secretaries from some of Mexico's top-ranking organizations will be members of this chapter. Letters from the White House and a telegram from Vice President Nixon were among the congratulatory messages received by the chapter's president, Miss Guadalupe Landerreche Obregon, who is secretary for Mobile Oil de Mexico.

A report was given on the educational workshop held by the Stamford, Connecticut chapter on October 31. Members attending were Blanche Cartier, Bess Caranicos, Olga Plog, Alma Pfrommer and Molly Winne.

Any secretaries in the area interested in obtaining more information concerning the National Secretaries Association are cordially invited to attend the December meeting which will be held on December 21 at Broglio's in West Park. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Shirley Gorham, President of the Chapter, Rolling Meadows, Kingston.

Good Taste Today

PRORIETY IN AGE

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a widow in the late sixties and live alone. My children are married and live out of the state: I am very lonely. About a year ago I met a man who lives in this same apartment house. He is a widower and approximately my same age. He has been very kind to me, taking me for rides, to dinner, to the movies, etc. My life would be desolate without him. Neither of us want to marry again because of family reasons. This man would like to go to the coast and has asked me to go with him. I would share expenses and we would register at hotels and motels separately, en route. Would such a trip be proper?

Answer: In view of your ages, I do not see how anyone could criticize you for taking the trip you describe.

Exchanging Christmas Cards

Dear Mrs. Post: It it necessary to send Christmas cards to all those who send us cards? Every year we receive cards from quite a few people whom we havn't seen in years. In the past we have always sent cards in return. This year I would like to cut down on my Christmas list and thought of eliminating these names. My husband does not feel that it is the right thing to do and says that as long as these people continue to send us cards we are obliged to send them cards in return. I would like your views on the matter.

Answer: As long as you continue returning these people's Christmas cards, they will probably continue sending them to you. My advice is to simply stop sending your cards and thus put an end to this exchange.

While Man Pays The Check

Dear Mrs. Post: When I am having dinner in a restaurant with a man friend, where am I supposed to stand to wait for him while he pays the check?

Answer: You just walk slowly towards the door and wait, exactly as you do when he goes to the box office to buy theatre tickets.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-11, entitled "Do You Know Your ABC's in Manners" (Quiz for Girls and Boys of High-School Age), send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Child Discipline, Respect and Role Woman Plays in Today's Life Discussed by Iranian

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

"We think it's a shame that American women have been pulled down from a position of superiority to prosaic equality," says suave, handsome Abdol Hossein Hamzavi, Iranian delegate to the United Nations.

"Women should be cherished, respected and shielded from all the unpleasant things of life—such as voting."

The polished diplomat speaks with conviction. He says that in his native land live some of the world's most beautiful, cultured and brilliant women, beloved by their husbands, revered by their sons — products of one of the world's oldest civilizations. He has little admiration for America's bustling career girls and working wives.

"In my country the majority of marriages are arranged by the parents, and they usually work far better than the effervescent and immature marriages of young couples in America," he says.

"Divorce is easy. A man has only to say three times, 'I divorce my wife,' and the deed is done. Yet statistics show our divorce rate to be about one-millionth of that of the Western world."

Can an Iranian woman obtain a divorce by the same simple process?

"Well, no," says Hamzavi. "Divorce is a man's responsibility—like other unpleasant things in life. But now, for the first time, an Iranian woman can get a divorce, by proving cause and establishing legal grounds, through the courts. It's harder for her, but possible."

Hamzavi says Americans could learn some valuable lessons from Iranian family life.

"We feel that family education is far more important than anything else," says he. "In an Iranian family the mother is the final and absolute authority. Her word is law. As an ambassador, aged 48, I would not dare to sit in the presence of my mother until she bade me do so.

"We have no juvenile delinquency in my country. We don't even have such a word in the Iranian language. There is no need for it, because juvenile crime is unknown there. We believe in child discipline."

Record Shooting Display Helps Nats Beat Celts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

All it takes is a record performance to make those Boston Celtics look human in the National Basketball Assn. this season.

They didn't lose until their seventh game, when they ran into Minneapolis and Elgin Baylor, who set an NBA record with 64 points for a 136-115 decision. Then the Celts clocked off five in a row before the Syracuse Nationals, whipped Boston 138-103 Wednesday night.

It was Boston's first defeat by an Eastern division team and left the Celts with only a 1½-game edge over idle Philadelphia in the East.

Detroit closed within a half-game of idle Western leader St. Louis by defeating Cincinnati 110-93, and the New York Knicks held off Minneapolis 106-105 after leading by 21.

Syracuse's Dolph Schayes finished with 32 points while the Nats wound up with 58 field goals and tied their shooting percentage record of .527. Sam Jones' 28 points led the Celts.

Bailey Howell scored 27 and Gene Shue 25 for the Pistons. Wayne Embry's 18 points led Cincinnati while Jack Twyman managed only 15.

The Knicks, now have won two in a row. Kenny Sears and Mike Farmer combined to hold Baylor to 20 points while Willie Naulis of the Knicks topped the scoring with 23.

Red Hot Casper Is Mobile Pick

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — One of golf's hottest players at the moment, Billy Casper, is the favorite to win the first Mobile $15,000 open tournament starting today.

Casper, 28-year-old open champion, has won three of his past four starts, including the Lafayette, La., open Sunday. He has not finished worse than seventh in his past seven outings.

Consecutive victories are rare, but the Apple Valley, Calif., pro nevertheless was the choice here.

Another top contender in the 72-hole medal play tournament is Arnold Palmer, who returned to the fall tour at Lafayette after a 10-week vacation. He started poorly but finished seventh with 69, 73 and 67 in the last three rounds. Palmer had a practice round of 70 here Wednesday.

Casper and Palmer are the only ones among the year's top 12 money winners entered.

Montreal Five In First Visit To New Paltz

The Hawks of the State University College of Education of New Paltz will clash Friday night at New Paltz with the highly rated Canadian team, Sir George Williams College of Montreal, in the opening contest of a 20-game schedule.

The Hawks won and lost record for the last three years are eight and seven, nine and eight, and seven and 11. However, Coach Charles P. Wolbers has hopes that the coming season's record will improve, providing that several new squad members come through.

For the opener Friday night, the Hawks were dealt a severe blow when their sensational sophomore, Art Gribbins, suffered a broken wrist during practice. Lates reports are that he probably will be sidelined for the season. The scramble for his position has narrowed down to two players, Bill Witte, a junior from Mahopac, and Tom Rokjer, sophomore from Cobbleskill. Neither player has had varsity experience, but they have performed well in practice.

Four of the top teams the Hawks will face in the coming campaign are Fairleigh Dickinson, Hunter, Oswego and Albany.

Hunter College Due

On Dec. 15, the New Paltz club plays host to Hunter College of the Bronx, a tall, hard-running club which plays top rated teams including New York University, Manhattan, Adelphi and several more clubs of this caliber.

The Lakers of Oswego, scheduled to clash with the Hawks at New Paltz on Dec. 18 will again exhibit their fantastic Ron Davis, fourth top scorer in the nation for small colleges last year and also in the list of the top 20 rebounders. According to Coach Wolbers, this could be the season for Oswego to establish that club as a top basketball power in the state.

Following the opening game Friday and a tangle with the Alumni team Saturday afternoon, the New Paltz team moves to New Jersey for a contest against Fairleigh Dickinson. The New Jersey team was last year's District 31, National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Champs and represented the East in the national tourney at Kansas City, Mo.

Coach Wolbers feels that those opponents can spell trouble for any team they meet this year. One of their top players is Charlie Potyrola who gained the praises of sportswriters for his fine shooting during the Kansas City playoffs, and he is backed by four other seasoned seniors.

Face Rugged Albany

After the Christmas holidays, the New Paltz Hawks travel to Albany for one of their toughest encounters. The Peds of Albany State University College of Education have lost the services of Gary Holoway, but still have their top rebounding star, six-foot, five-inch Dick Cohen returning. With Dick will be Dennis Johnson, a fine outside shooter and playmaker, with Eric Baumes, another veteran.

The Georgians from Montreal boast a 12-man squad with two six-foot, five-inch and two six-foot, four-inch dunkers leading their play. There are seven men from last year's cagers on the present squad.

Their overall record of the past 10 years shows 103 wins and 18 losses, and they have won the Ottawa-St. Lawrence Conference five times during the last 10 seasons.

Coach Wolbers hopes that the New Paltz team, bolstered by more height than ever before, will have a more successful season than ever.

ALL-AMERICA

Well, it's that time of the year again. Everybody is picking an All-America football team. Members of the selection commitee of the Football Writers Assn. met over the weekend in New Orleans to select a 22-man All-America for Look Magazine.

Those stars selected will appear on the Perry Como Television show in December. More than 1,000 members of the Assn. sent in preliminary ballots during the past two weeks. The committee screened the ballots and selected their team.

To join the crowd, here is our All-America:

Ends—Bill Carpenter, Army, and Monty Stickles, Notre Dame.

Tackles—Don Ficca, USC, and Don Floyd, TCU.

Guards—Bill Burrell, Illinois, and Roger Davis, Syracuse.

Center—Jackie Burkett, Auburn.

Quarterback—Don Meredith, SMU.

Halfbacks—Billy Cannon, LSU, and Ron Burton, Northwestern.

Fullback—Charlie Flowers, Mississippi.

The committee's selections will be made known in the Dec. 7 issue of Look Magazine. As is the case each season, the task is a tough one. There are simply too many star players to try and pick the 22 best. However, it's a tradition and who can fight that?

ALL-DUSO

This year's DUSO Football League, though not as strong as in recent seasons, showed more balance. When the DUSO Sportswriters meet on Dec. 1 to select the All-DUSO team, the meeting could turn out to be quite a donnybrook.

Kingston has been dethroned as league champion for the first time in four seasons. Yet, we feel the Maroon eleven has five candidates for All-DUSO honors.

Poughkeepsie, which can finish no worse than tied for first in the circuit, has three outstanding players. Newburgh figures to place at least two on the first team and Middletown has the other standout candidate. We do not rate any Port Jervis player as good enough for a first team berth.

Our All-DUSO selections:

Ends—Bob Boschen, Poughkeepsie, and Terry Kalish, Kingston.

Tackles—Milan Pece, Kingston, and Jeff McConnell, Poughkeepsie.

Guards—Bob Jenkins, Kingston, and Bob Traver, Newburgh.

Center—Pete Leeds, Kingston.

Backs—Bill Sherlock, Middletown; Jim Gordon, Poughkeepsie; Gordon Fox, Newburgh, and Bob Keating, Kingston.

Our choice for "Player of the Year" is Bob Boschen, the best end in the league since Marv Engle.

We will string along with Bill Burke for "Coach of the Year." With a break or two at Poughkeepsie, the KHS players would be battling Newburgh for the DUSO title come Thanksgiving Day instead of trying to finish second.

SOLID FRESHMEN

Middletown's undefeated Freshman Football squad closed its season last week with a 32-0 win over the Port Jervis yearlings. However, the record of the Middies is tainted because they did not meet the Kingston High Frosh, another unbeaten club. Seems the bigwigs at the Mid City school forgot that Kingston fields a freshman squad. From all appearances, this could have been some battle. . . . Rutgers University will play the same nine teams in 1960 as it did this season. Games are with Princeton, Connecticut, Colgate, Bucknell, Lehigh, Villanova, LaFayette, Delaware and Columbia. Kingston's Marv Engle, who started at end this season, has two more years of varsity ball left. . . . The New York World Telegram and Sun has selected New Rochelle as the Met area's top scholastic eleven. The Huguenots have now won 11 straight games since Kingston beat them early last year. . . . West Point basketball hopes were severely jolted last week when Captain-elect Jim Klosek was dropped from the squad. He has been confined to quarters for six months for taking a weekend leave without authorization.

POPULAR GRIDDERS

Ken Brown, the golden voice at all Kingston High athletic contests, gives us the following information. Bob Jenkins and Terry Kalish, co-captains of this year's Kingston High Football squad, are presidents. Jenkins is president of the student body and Kalish is president of the senior class. Another star—Pete Leeds—is treasurer of the senior class. . . . Life of a sports writer isn't as easy as some folks seem to believe. For instance, at the Poughkeepsie-Newburgh football game last Monday, Ed Gleed, Sports Editor of the Middletown Record, concentrated so much on getting a photo of a sideline pass play that he forgot all about the pigskin. Result: The ball hit him smack on the nose. . . . Rowdyism was noticeable at the PHS-Newburgh game as students tore down both of the goal posts before the action ended. It's all so unnecessary. What good is a piece of wood? . . . Bud Smith, the Saugerties High School basketball coach, figures his team to be a top contender for DCSL honors. Buddy is one of the nicest coaches in the business and a credit to the game as well as a good teacher.

Burnham to Remain As Rochester Coach

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Coach Elmer Burnham is skipping his retirement for a second time to stay in charge of the University of Rochester's football team.

Burnham passed up retirement last September, when he became 65, and guided Rochester to a 6-1 season.

Under his 16-year tutelage, Rochester has won 76 games, lost 46 and tied six.

His decision to remain for the 1960 season was announced Wednesday night.

Liberty, Monticello To Vie Against Cities

The DUSO League village schools are evenly divided on the question of playing against the city slickers in basketball.

Fallsburg Central and Ellenville High have voted to play exclusively in the Village League, while Liberty High and Monticello are still willing to take their chances againt city opponents like Kingston, Poughkepsie, Middletown, Newburgh and Port Jervis.

Results on the recent balloting on preferences for basketball schedules for the next two seasons was made known at this week's meeting of the DUSO League Council.

As a result of the new alignment, the Village teams will play an 8-game schedule among themselves and fill out the remainder of their slate with independents.

A proposal by Pete Roberts of Ellenville that city schools play against each other on Fridays, while the village cagers are doing the same was adopted by the council. This plan insures that all the key games will be played on Friday. And in case of inclement weather or other factors, games may be played the next night.

The village baseball circuit voted to extend the schedule to three rounds next spring.

A Career First

Phil Battaglia Slams 700 in Sangi's Major

Phil Battaglia, one of the more prolific keglers in town, rolled the first 700 triple of his career and it was right on the nose in the Sangi Major.

The Miron Lumber anchor fired games of 256, 232 and 212 in a series in which he tossed 22 strikes and had three open frames. Going into the third set with 488, he had some anxious moments, including a split, but rallied for a string of four straight strikes and a 9-pin fill on his last ball to salvage the 700.

According to alley historians, Battaglia's 700 was only the second recorded at the new Bowlero. Charlie Manfro is credited with the first one—also 700 on the nose. Battaglia shoots in the 187-190 range and is considered one of the top younger bowlers in town.

Jim Nottingham was runnerup to Battaglia with 224-246-646, Harold Broskie hit 229-205-617 and Joe Misasi rolled 211-206-604.

Folley Defeats Johnson in Bout In Phoenix Ring

By BOB WOOD

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Zora Folley, stretched out on a bright red sofa, shook his head in digust and said, "I should have put him away twice."

Folley, 197½, the No. 2 heavyweight contender, was rehashing his unanimous decision over young and inexperienced Alonzo Johnson, 189½, of Pittsburgh in their nationally televised 10-rounder Wednesday night.

The Arizonan, who used a punishing left hand and an occasional booming right, added, "I wasn't at my best. I saw the openings but just couldn't take advantage of them. This Johnson is a smart fighter."

Johnson went to the canvas three times but Referee Max Baer ruled each a slip.

Folley rested in one of the plush ground floor suites of the swank motel where the fight was staged for TV cameras and only 600 ringsiders, and griped, "Johnson might have slipped the first time, but I put him down once."

It wasn't until the late rounds that Folley, who has lost only one of his 28 bouts, was able to get any stiff rights across. Johnson stung him into action with a good left hook to the face in the fifth.

Johnson, pressing an ice pack against a bruised and swollen left eye, said he didn't feel any of Folley's punches.

Predict Brisk Inter-League Trading but No Big Names

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)— Those who should know best—the club owners and general managers—expect a lot of swapping during the unprecedented three-week period of inter-league trades starting Saturday. But they don't think many "name" players will be involved.

Bing Devine, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, probably will be the busiest trader of them all. He's already agreed to swap Gene Green to Baltimore for Bob Nieman and is considering a Chicago White Sox offer of Billy Pierce, Billy Goodman and Jim Rivera for Joe Cunningham. He also has a bid in for Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees.

Bill DeWitt, newly elected president of the Detroit Club, said he was seeking a shortstop, a first baseman and some additional reserve strength.

Kansas City General Manager Parke Carroll said his club expected to complete a couple of deals with National League clubs. He declined to identify the clubs or players but said the A's are seeking a catcher, a third baseman and a pitcher.

Calvin Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, expects brisk trading, judging from the feelers he's had for his players. "Everybody wants Camilo Pascual, Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew," he said. "I told them these fellows can't be had."

The Boston Red Sox are said to have closed a deal whereby Dick Gernert goes to the Chicago Cubs for pitcher Dave Hillman and first baseman Rufe Marshall.

Phillies Owner Slated to Make Decision Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bob Carpenter, owner of baseball's Philadelphia Phillies, announces today whether he'll join the American Football League as the owner of the eighth and final team.

Last week at this time it was thought he would bring the franchise to Philadelphia, and it is still rumored he would like to.

Now, however, the expectation has been tempered by reports the AFL has decided it would be unwise to compete with the well-established Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

Whatever Carpenter's decision, it will be announced at a noon (EST) press conference.

Even's Jet Scores In Juvenile Class

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP) — Even's Jet, an invader from Canada, made an impressive debut at Roosevelt Raceway Wednesday night when he came from far back for victory in the juvenile Class A pace.

Even's Jet was seventh in the stretch when he started his move under the guidance of Benoit Coite. At the finish of the mile, paced in 2:05 1-5, the Canadian colt had a head on Winbee. Devastator, another Canadian, was third.

The winner, owned by Gerald Veilleux of Drummondville, Que. paid $19.30 in the $2 straight mutuels.

Nobody Wants Those Canadiens

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Hockey League season still is young. But already quite a battle is shaping up to see who can avoid meeting the all-powerful Montreal Canadiens in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The playoffs setup calls for the pennant winners, and just about everybody has conceded that to the Canadians, to meet the third place club in the first round with the second and fourth place teams tangling in the other series. The problem is to keep from finishing third.

Right now the Toronto Maple Leafs are making a desperate effort to get out of the third spot. They closed in on second place Detroit Wednesday night with a 3-2 victory. The victory left the Leafs trailing the Wings by two points.

In another battle to keep out of the cellar, the Chicago Black Hawks spoiled the coaching debut of Alf Pike by downing the New York Rangers 5-3 in a penalty-packed game. Although each has won the same number of games, three, the Rangers still hold fifth place by a point.

Ron Stewart, Bobby Pulford and Dick Duff provided the Leafs' goals as Johnny Bower again starred in the nets.

Seventeen penalties were called in the New York - Chicago game and they were reflected in the scoring. Five of the eight goals came at the end of power plays with opposing players in the penalty box.

HAMILTON, N. Y. (AP) — Colgate's injury - riddled football forces have started light workouts for their Thanksgiving Day clash with Brown.

Coach Al Kelley said Wednesday the team was hit hard by injuries in its 71-0 loss to Syracuse. He gave the Red Raiders two days of rest after the game.

Tops in Nation

Orange Monsters Lead In Five Departments

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Anyway you figure it, Syracuse is the No. 1 team in major college football.

The unbeaten, untied Orange, ranked first in the Associated Press weekly poll and headed for the Cotton Bowl, lead the nation in total offense, total defense, rushing offense, rushing defense and scoring.

Syracuse also is among the top 10 in three of the other four team categories listed in NCAA Service Bureau statistics released today. The only one in which the Orange fail to appear is punting —having kicked fewer times than any other team (24 in eight games for a 36.2 yard average).

Syracuse has given up an average of 98.8 yards a game to top the total defense list, and is No. 1 in rushing defense with a 36.8 yield. That works out to 1.2 yard for each rushing play and a little better than 2 yards a crack rushing and passing.

Louisiana State is the total offense runner-up, giving up 143.7 yards a game, with Southern California No. 2 in rushing defense, allowing 77.6. Souther nCal is the only other major team with a perfect record, matching Syracuse's 8-0 mark.

Alabama, Mississippi and Stanford claim the leads in the other statistic groupings. Alabama is No. 1 in pass defense (47.5 yards a game), Mississippi tops in scoring defense (2.3 points a game) and Stanford is first in passing offense (208.6 yards).

Bob Elliott Is Named New Kansas City Pilot

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "We wanted a fiery guy and we got him. I'm very happy with the choice."

That's how Arnold Johnson, president of the Kansas City Athletics, feels about hiring Bob Elliott as manager of his seventh place American League Club.

Elliott, 43, a major league player 15 years and a manager in the Pacific Coast League four years, signed with the A's Wednesday.

He signed a one-year contract, reportedly at a $20,000 salary, to succeed Harry Craft, whose contract was not renewed at the end of the season.

"It's one of the greatest thrills of my life," the husky Elliott said.

He announced he would retain Don Heffner of the Craft regime as third base coach. He will hire two more and he indicated he has decided on the ones he wants.

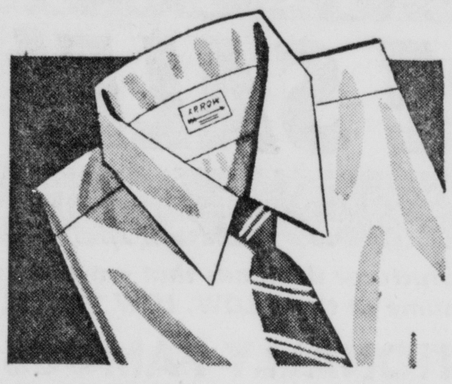

Elliott played with the Pittsbrugh Pirates from 1939 through 1946. With the Boston Braves in 1947 he batted .317, drove in 113 runs and was the National League's most valuable player. He later played with the New York Giants, St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox.

He managed San Diego of the Pacific Coast League from 1955 until early in 1957. He led the Sacramento Solons to fourth place in 1959 and had signed with them for next year. The contract had an escape clause, however.

Winter Baseball Helped Allison Take AL Honors

By RICHARD VALERIANI

HAVANA (AP) — Bob Allison gave winter baseball credit today for helping him win 1959 American League rookie honors.

The 6-foot-3, 210-pound Washington Senators centerfielder was selected Wednesday for the honor by the Baseball Writers Assn. of America in what amounted to a runaway vote.

The former University of Kansas fullback from a suburb of Kansas City polled 18 votes in the balloting of the 24-man committee. Jim Perry, Cleveland Pitcher, was second with five votes and Kansas City's Russ Snyder, an outfielder, third with one.

"I definitely think last year in the Cuban winter league helped me," said the 25-year-old father of two after first expressing surprise over his selection. "I went into spring training in good shape and then had my best spring in baseball."

Allison, currently playing with the last place Almendares in the Cuban circuit, had a .261 batting average in 150 games, hit 30 home runs and drove in 85 runs. He led the league in triples with 9 and also had 18 doubles. His home run production came within one of tying Ted Williams record for most home runs by a first year man.

Snead Canned Five Birdies, Australia Still in Lead

MELBOURNE (AP) — America's Sam Snead, his putter blazing, came charging back with a 5-under-par 65 today, but Australia clung to a 7-stroke lead over Canada at the halfway point of the international Canada Cup golf competition. The United States moved into third place.

Stan Leonard, a weatherbeaten little Canadian, almost matched Snead's performance with a sparkling 66 which sent him into a tie with Australia's Peter Thomson at 136 in the battle for individual honors. Snead was two shots back at 138.

Thomson, four-time British Open champion, added a 69 to his first round 67 over the par 34-36 Royal Melbourne Club course. That, plus a second 70 by steady Kel Nagle kept the home forces in front with a total score of 276.

Snead was little short of sensational as he bulled around the 6,853-yard layout with most of the gallery of 15,000 at his heels.

He canned five birdies in a stretch of seven holes. He one-putted 10 of the last 12 greens and came to the final hole needing only a par for a 64. Then he took his only bogey of the round, he missed a 2½-footer after a crashing drive down the middle of the fairway and a nice approach to the middle of the green.

Al Balding, Leonard's partner, nailed a birdie 3 on the final hole for a 73 which gave Canada a 36-hole overall total of 283.

The United States was third at 285 and certainly would have moved into stout contention if the roof had not fallen on Dr. Cary Middlecoff. The Memphis dentist took seven 5's on the last nine holes for a 6-over-par 42. He finished with a 75 and was completely dazed over his sudden collapse.

Mimi Arnold Loses Match in Australia

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Mimi Arnold of Redwood City, Calif., beaten in the quarter-final of the New South Wales Tennis Championships at White City today. She lost to NSW junior Jan Lahane 4-6, 7-5, 6-2. After the gruelling 2-hour match Miss Arnold had to receive medical attention for badly blistered feet.

Brazilian Maria Bueno beat Victorian player, Mrs. Beverley Rae, 6-3, 7-5 in another quarter-final.

Sugar Ray-Pender Bout Rescheduled

BOSTON (AP) — The Sugar Ray Robinson-Paul Pender title bout, originally set for Dec. 14, has been rescheduled for Jan. 22 in order to avoid television conflicts, promoter Sam Silverman said Wednesday.

Silverman said he has secured a national television contract for $100,000 for the January date. Of that, Silverman said, Robinson will get $75,000 while he and Pender will split the rest.

Boston and Providence, R. I., will be blacked out on TV.

Campy Asks Fans During TV Show To Aid Crippled

BALTIMORE (AP)—Roy Campanella stole the show from 180 miles away Wednesday night at a banquet honoring him with a "good sportsmanship" award.

The crippled former catcher, whose baseball career was ended when an auto accident broke his neck, watched the proceedings via closed-circuit television from his home in New York.

Campanella touched an audience of 500 at the Sports Boosters of Maryland affair with a moving plea for all sports boosters to "help the youngsters and adults who are like I am."

"Baseball has helped me go through this," added the former Brooklyn Dodger star. He is confined to his home with kidney complications.

Three Goal Trick Old Stuff in America

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The three-goal hat trick's getting to be old hat in the American Hockey League, where five players have scored four goals in one game this season.

Claude DeForge did it Wednesday night as the Hershey Bears whipped first place Springfield 8-2 and ended the AHL's longest unbeaten streak of the season. The Indians hadn't lost in seven games and had won four in a row.

Springfield retained its three-point lead over second place Providence, however, when the Reds were beaten 5-2 by the Buffalo Bisons in the only other game scheduled. Eddie Kachur, one of the four-goal men this season, capped the fifth-place Bison's attack with a pair of goals.

Upstate Briefs

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Syracuse's football powerhouse, installed as a five touchdown favorite, continues to work on its defenses for Saturday's Boston College game.

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder said Wednesday his Cotton Bowl-bound team might run into some rough going because of poor practice weather in Syracuse. Rain and subfreezing temperatures have hampered the No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll for the past two days.

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — Senior Dick Nicoletti will return to the starting Cornell football lineup for the Thanksgiving Day battle with Penn.

Nicoletti, who has been out for five games because of a shoulder separation, replaces Johnny Beggs, who has suffered a knee injury, Coach Lefty James said Wednesday.

KICK OUT RABBITS

WHEN RABBITS ARE SLOW TO MOVE OUT, HERE ARE A COUPLE OF TRICKS TO TRY.

DON'T PASS UP ANY BRUSH PILES WITHOUT JUMPING ON THEM SEVERAL TIMES. IF YOU HUNT WITH A PARTNER, TAKE TURNS IN JUMPING SO THAT ONE OF YOU IS ALWAYS READY TO SHOOT. SOMETIMES A LOT OF JUMPING IS NEEDED TO MOVE A RABBIT OUT.

USE THE HALTING STEP, AND PAUSE OFTEN IN A FIELD SO RABBITS BECOME UNNERVED AND EXPOSE THEMSELVES.

THIS IS NOT A BEDTIME STORY
BY H.T.B. OF BOWERS MOTORS

Once upon a time a couple owned an old hog, I mean car. It was an oil and gas gulper that grunted and squealed and rooted their budget to ruin. They sat down and wisely calculated that they would save with a newer used car, they wished for a used car dealer who did not have to take out rent, salaries, city taxes and other high city charges in their car prices and trade-in allowances.

THEY DO NOT NEED A FAIRY GODMOTHER NOW.

They found BOWERS OF BLOOMINGTON. All their wishes came true when they bought a clean fairly priced economical used car. Their BUDGET WAS BALANCED by BOWERS.

THIS IS NOT A BEDTIME STORY BY H.T.B. OF BOWERS MOTORS
Once upon a time a couple owned an old hog, I mean car. It was an oil and gas gulper that grunted and squealed and rooted their budget to ruin. They sat down and wisely calculated that they would save with a newer used car, they wished for a used car dealer who did not have to take out rent, salaries, city taxes and other high city charges in their car prices and trade-in allowances.

THEY DO NOT NEED A FAIRY GODMOTHER NOW.

They found BOWERS OF BLOOMINGTON. All their wishes came true when they bought a clean fairly priced economical used car. Their BUDGET WAS BALANCED by BOWERS.

4 Children Burned In Upstate Blaze

MADRID, N. Y. (AP) — Four children were burned today, at least one seriously, when fire levelle a home and barn near this St. Lawrence County village.

The children's mother, Mrs. Homer Rockwood, had moved the family recently into a home owned by Wellington Wells of Syracuse.

Four-year-old Ila Rockwood was taken by ambulance on a 150-mile trip to University Hospital in Syracuse. Her hands and feet were badly burned.

A brother and sister, Bonita, 12, and Philip, 14, were taken to the Edward J. Noble Hospital in Canton, also with burns on the hands and feet. Laurena, 15, suffered a possible broken nose.

The cause of the fire was not known.

Dick Clark Uses TV Show for His Reply to Probe

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dick Clark, the nation's leading television disc jockey, used his "American Bandstand" show Wednesday for his first public reply to a congressional investigation of his profession.

"People have called me, said wonderful things," declared Clark, smiling slightly as he talked to the teen-agers gathered in the WFIL-TV studio. They gave him a big hand. He then thanked his friends for their "kind words and encouragement" but made no other comment.

Clark spent nearly an hour Wednesday night talking to an investigator from a House subcommittee.

Then the investigator was joined by another and the two left the studio, declining comment, not saying where they were going. It was their third talk with Clark since Tuesday night.

The subcommittee is investigating alleged payoffs to disc jockeys to play and promote records. The investigators — Charles Howze, a staff attorney, and James Kelly, a staff investigator—were sent here Tuesday.

Temperatures were in the upper 20s.

The Weather Bureau forecast snow flurries and possibly snow squalls for the area today.

McCarthy Dinner Is January 16th At Clinton Hotel

Committees have been named to arrange a full-scale testimonial dinner to be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Saturday, Jan. 16, 1960 at 7 p. m. in honor of Richard J. McCarthy, former Kingston newsman and broadcaster.

City Marshal John Ray Mayone has been named chairman of the committee. Alderman Joseph Carroll Jr. and Benjamin Schecter are co-chairmen. Gerald A. Smith heads the ticket committee.

The program will be arranged by Andrew J. Murphy III, and arrangements will be in charge of Alan Vogt, chairman. Other committee members include, Edwin Murphy, Tony Bell, Earl Thomas, Bob Browning and City Judge Aaron E. Klein.

Commenting on the dinner plans, Co-chairman Carroll said, "it is the intention of the committee to pay due honors to a man who most certainly has been generous of his time and labor over the years, always ready to help a worthy cause."

McCarthy, who left here this week to become news director of radio station WCOP, Boston, was a sports reporter and newscaster with WKNY and also served on the editorial staff of The Freeman for three years.

Chairman Mayone announced that tickets will be distributed soon, and he said the committee will seek the assistance and participation from many organizations and veterans groups who received the cooperation of Dick McCarthy.

Further plans will be announced in the near future and the committee is hopeful of a sellout attendance at the testimonial dinner.

Johnson and Kennedy Plan Deer Hunt Today

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) and Robert F. Kennedy, former chief counsel for the Senate committee investigating unions and management groups, planned a deer hunt today.

The senate majority leader who lives on a Pedernales River ranch at nearby Stonewall, Tex., flew to College Station, Tex., Wednesday to pick up Kennedy, younger brother of Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass).

Both Sen. Kennedy and Johnson are being boosted by friends for the Democratic presidential nomination next year.

Hoffa Ouster Is Asked by Lawyer Of TU Members

WASHINGTON (AP)—Godfrey Schmidt, attorney for a group of rank-and-file members of the Teamsters Union Wednesday asked the ouster of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

Schmidt, in a motion mailed from New York City to U. S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts in Washington, asked for Hoffa's ouster on grounds that Hoffa deprived Teamster members of rights guaranteed by the new labor law. The motion further seeks Hoffa's trial on charges previously filed by Schmidt alleging misuse of union powers.

Teamster members bringing the action are Andrew Boggia, Ed McFarland, Frank Kennedy, Hobart Gale, Joe Malloy, Harold Will, Thomas Manning, John McGlynn, John Olsen, Steve Milone, John McManus and George Becker. All are from the New York City area.

The motion accused Hoffa of consistent unwillingness to cooperate with a three-man board of monitors appointed by the court to regulate Hoffa's administration of union affairs.

The formation of the board stemmed from legal action by Schmidt on behalf of rank-and-file Teamsters opposed to Hoffa's control.

Schmidt charged that the union's Executive Board members, who normally would consider charges against Hoffa, "are not capable of impartial adjudication."

Because of this, the motion said, a court-appointed board was needed to try Hoffa.

Castro Asks Unity

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro early today called on Cuban labor to unite behind his revolution. He said a split now in the ranks of the workers would help the government's enemies.

"The destiny of the nation and the revolution is in the hands of the working class," he told the opening session of a national labor meeting.
